NO. 130—SEVENTY-THIRD YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1931 | TWENTY-TWO PAGES

Premier Bennett Says Depression Is at Dead Level

Is Enthusiastic Over Early Response Shown by Canadians to Conversion of Victory Bonds Into New Long Term Securities—Sees Era of Prosperity Ahead of Dominion

Issues Appeal to East to Make Study of Problems of the West

MONTREAL, May 11 (CP).—Enthusiastic appreciation of the magnificent response of Canadians of all classes to the new conversion loan, and his confident expectation that the amount of $250,000,000 will be oversubscribed, were voiced here tonight by Premier R. B. Bennett.

Giving expression also to his belief that there were evidences that the "dead level" of depression had been reached, "and that the movement from now on will be upward," the Prime Minister asked for a "clear conception of the situation west of the Great Lakes." With this appeal, however, he declared his disagreement with any suggestions that captains of industry in the East lay awake at night "to see how they could ensnare the unwary farmer of the West."

APPLAUDED SPEECH

The Prime Minister spoke at the annual banquet of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. Manufacturers in every branch of industry from the Atlantic to the Pacific, the presidents of the two great railway systems, financiers and business men in varied walks of life heard his utterances and applauded his words of optimism.

"I have endeavored," the Prime Minister proceeded, "to make it clear to my fellow citizens west of the Great Lakes and beyond the Rockies that there are no people who have a better appreciation of the problems of the West than the manufacturers of the East; because if the West has no purchasing power, up go the shutters and down come the factories." He had found the manufacturer concerned with the problems of the West, he said.

Under the circumstances mentioned, Premier Bennett asked for an understanding that in some parts there had been poor crops and there had been low prices, "for which you were not to blame. Some people had been trying to create the belief that you were to blame, but you were not."

PROSPERITY SEEN

"Realizing these things," the Prime Minister stated, "we, as Canadians, should forget the aspects that are purely provincial and remember only this great heritage and the opportunities that are ours. I ask you, as no doubt you have been asked before, and have responded, to realize that a tolerant view of an extreme situation is desirable and that the day will come when the progress that has been interrupted will continue, and that this country with growing revenues and a contented people will go forward to the great duty that rests upon it.

FEAR REVOLT IN REPUBLIC

Provisional Government of Argentina Is Threatened With Serious Trouble

PRESIDENT MIGHT BE FORCED FROM OFFICE

By JOHN W. WHITE
(Copyright, 1931, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

MONTEVIDEO, May 11.—The provisional government of Argentina, which under the presidency of General Jose Francisco Uriburo has assumed power amidst unprecedented popular rejoicing following a one-day revolution overthrowing the regime of Hipolito Irigoyen last September, during the last month has developed into a weak military dictatorship which has aroused opposition so bitter and so widespread that it is threatened with serious trouble, if not revolt.

The situation was admittedly critical all week, with rumors of plans for a counter-revolution appearing to have some foundation.

FATE OF PRESIDENT

One of the most prominent men in Argentine public life has told The Chicago Daily News that he felt certain that public opinion would force President Uriburu out of office within a month. He said he was hoping the president would resign, but that undoubtedly he would be relieved of his duties by other means.

Nervousness over the political situation was reflected last week in the widely fluctuating exchange and new low records for government securities.

Student riots and clashes with mounted police in the principal streets of Buenos Aires occurred almost daily last week. They were similar to the disturbances which brought the September revolution to a head.

CLOSES NEWSPAPER

President Uriburu has closed the newspaper Critica, which, more than any other factor, created the popular backing which made the September revolution successful and in whose editorial offices the revolutionary leaders met to lay their plans.

President Uriburu no longer has the support of either the army or the navy. The government has virtually ceased to function, except as a political machine, since the new cabinet was formed, and pressing public problems, such as finance, farm relief, initiation of public works, are still awaiting solution.

WOULD AMEND SHIPPING ACT

Proposes Restriction of Coastal Trading to Ships of Canadian Registry

OTTAWA, May 11 (CP).—The present Canada Shipping Act was out of harmony with modern industrial conditions, Angus McInnis (Labor, Vancouver South) informed the House of Commons today, explaining an amendment he proposed to that statute. The bill was given first reading.

The amendment was designed to bring the act more up to date. It provided for the physical examination of seamen, the more efficient inspection of water and provisions rationed to the crews, and for certain regulations governing hours of work and compensation to seamen in the event of injury. The bill would also restrict coastal trading in Canadian waters to vessels of Canadian registry.

MIGHT CAUSE CONFLICT

The Prime Minister interposed to say that the amendment might conflict with the provisions of the Statute of Westminster. To A. W. Neill (Ind., Comox-Alberni), who declared the act to be in need of complete revision, Mr. Bennett said that arising out of the operation of the Statute of Westminster, the Canada Shipping Act and a number of other statutes would need to be revised.

The McInnis bill sets forth that "any seaman applying for employment in any Canadian sea-going ship shall be examined by the medical officer of the port, or other qualified physician, before such ship is granted clearance; and such medical officer or physician shall give to the shipping master a report under his hands stating whether the seaman is in a fit state for duty at sea."

A copy of the report is to be furnished to the master or owner, and if it finds that the seaman is unfit for his duties, he shall not be employed.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY

"The working hours for seamen on all Canadian sea-going ships shall not exceed eight hours per day, except in cases of emergency," reads another clause in the McInnis amendment. It is also provided that the master or owner of a ship shall compensate a seaman for injury in accordance with the scale paid under Workman's Compensation Act of the province in which the ship is registered.

FOUR KILLED AT MEXICAN RESORT

COMEZ, Mexico, May 11 (AP).—Three men and a woman were lined up against a wall and shot to death by bandits who raided a Summer resort at Raymundo, near here, early today. The mandits forced the two proprietors of the resort to hand over the receipts from the previous night's business, then formed a firing squad and executed them, together with the wife of one.

A waiter employed in the resort interfered and also was executed, while the pianist escaped amid a hail of shots.

Militia authorities later apprehended Benito and Prudencio Valles, suspected of having participated in the raid.

The victims were Miguel and Vincente Ortega, brothers and proprietors; Senora Esther Gonzales de Ortega, wife of the former, and Juan, waiter.

The arrests were made upon information furnished by the pianist. The victims were killed, he said, despite pleas for mercy.

Nationalist Troops Slay 7,000 Bandits In Three Provinces

Towns in China Looted and Burned, and Populations Massacred by Brigands—Gov't. to Send Army Against Incipient Rebellion in South

NANKING, May 11 (AP).—The Nationalist Government announced tonight its troops had killed 7,000 bandits in central provinces. The Government is apparently preparing to send an army against incipient rebellion in South China.

The bandits were killed in the last two weeks by troops operating over a 200-square-mile area along the borders of Honan, Hupeh and Anwhei Provinces. Eight hundred of them were captured, the number including 100 women. The Government, its statement said, lost 1,000 soldiers.

The campaign followed months of Communistic and brigand outrages on a large scale along the Yangtze River.

Numerous towns have been looted and burned and their populations massacred. Foreign shipping has been frequently fired upon, but the ancient shore cannon did little damage.

CAUSES GRAVE CONCERN

The situation in Kwangtung and Kwangsi Province of South China admittedly is giving the Government grave concern, although officials have been guarded in statements concerning their intentions in dealing with the demands of Chen Chi Tang, military governor of Kwangtung, and other leaders that Chiang Kai-Shek retire as head of the central Government.

Addressing a conference of Government leaders, Chiang Kai-Shek said reports indicated Kwangtung and Kwangsi recalcitrants were endeavoring to undermine the loyalty of these provinces for the Nationalist Government. If, however, Chen-Chi Tang dared to rebel, Chiang said, "We are prepared to deal with him."

Discover Plot To Overthrow Mexican Gov't

MEXICO CITY, May 11 (AP).—General Mijares Palencia, chief of the federal district, announced that a plot to overthrow the Ortiz Rubio Government has been discovered, and that Luis Cabrera, former Minister of Finance, had been arrested and deported as the chief conspirator.

Mijares Palencia said an armed movement had been planned, but that police discovered the plot in time.

Besides Cabrera, he said a number of well-known politicians and former army officers were involved.

The plotters, he said, had held a number of meetings in a private home here and Cabrera had made frequent trips lately to Puebla and other places, believed to have been connected with the plot, which had ramifications in various states.

Hon. S. F. Tolmie Endorses Dominion Conversion Loan As Attractive Investment

TORONTO, May 11.—The following message has been received by the press publicity committee of the Dominion of Canada conversion loan from Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Premier of British Columbia:

"The offer which Mr. Bennett is making to holders of early maturity Dominion bonds strongly commends itself to me. From the standpoint of the individual investor who desires safety and security, its terms are particularly attractive. From the viewpoint of the country, the successful conclusion of this operation is of the utmost importance, not only in solving an important financial problem, but also in that it will demonstrate to the world the faith of Canadians in their own country and its future. I am confident that the people of British Columbia will realize the soundness of the proposal from a business standpoint and be glad, as in the past, to lend a hand in the enhancement of their country's credit."

CURRENCY IS CONSIDERED

Federal Gov't Confers on Silver Question With Leading British Authority

DOMINION MIGHT ACT IN APPROPRIATE WAY

OTTAWA, May 11 (CP).—The Dominion Government has been in conference on the silver currency question with the leading British authority on this matter, who is at present in Ottawa, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, informed the House of Commons today.

The Prime Minister was not prepared to say what the attitude of Canada was in regard to the proposed international currency conference. He stated, however, that the Dominion might be expected to act in an appropriate way for a large silver producing country.

INTERNATIONAL PARLEY

The question of silver currency was raised by Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Liberal Member for Vancouver Centre, who directed the attention of the Government to newspaper dispatches forecasting the holding of an international conference on the silver question. He asked if the Government would facilitate in every way possible the holding of such a meeting.

Mr. Bennett replied that the Government had been studying the silver question steadily for several months. The matter was still under discussion and consideration, but it was too early to state the position of Canada.

The British expert referred to by Mr. Bennett is believed to have been J. F. Darling, a director of Midland Bank, who had a conference with the Prime Minister today.

LAST BARRIER WILL BE REMOVED TODAY

MEXICO CITY, May 11 (AP).—The last barrier to automobile travel between Canada and Mexico City will be removed Tuesday, when a stone obstruction intervening between the northern and southern links of the Laredo-Mexico City Highway will be blown away with dynamite.

The ceremony will take place at a remote spot on the border between the states of San Luis Potosi and Hidalgo, 200 miles nearly due north of Mexico City.

GIVEN THREE YEARS FOR MANSLAUGHTER

PRINCE RUPERT, May 11.—Sam Douse, native of Kitwancool, charged with the murder of Silas Brown, was sentenced to three years in penitentiary by Justice W. A. Macdonald at the assizes here. The jury returned a verdict of manslaughter, with a recommendation of leniency.

WILL CONFER ON CHANGING CONSTITUTION

Ottawa Speakers Agree Canada Should Have Right to Amend Act

COMMITTEE TO STUDY DETAILS OF QUESTION

Motion Withdrawn While Matter Is Taken Up With Provinces

OTTAWA, May 11 (CP).—A resolution declaring that Canada should have the right to amend her own constitution, moved in the House of Commons tonight, brought from Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, the statement that he favored a conference with the provinces on this important matter.

Before calling a conference, however, he thought that a committee of Parliament should be appointed to consider the question.

"I am by no means hopeless of the situation," Mr. Guthrie declared to the House. "I am entirely hopeful, and I think it would be well for this Parliament, if not at this session, at some subsequent session, to appoint a committee especially charged with the consideration of this question. We must prepare our case here before we call a conference, and it is a case that will require a great deal of preparation.

FAVORS CONFERENCE

"After preparation has been made," added Mr. Guthrie, "I shall heartily favor the summoning of a provincial conference with the Dominion authorities to see what plan can be worked out."

The debate, precipitated through a private member's resolution sponsored by J. S. Woodsworth, Labor member for Winnipeg North Centre, was on a high level. It drew into the discussion members of the House who have made a study of constitutional law and the relationship of the Dominion and provinces.

The resolution was finally withdrawn, Mr. Woodsworth expressing appreciation for the suggestion made by the Minister of Justice for a conference. He also was gratified, he said, with the reception the resolution had received from all parts of the House.

The resolution read:

THE RESOLUTION

"That, in the opinion of this House, it is desirable that Canada should have the right to amend her own constitution, but that in proceeding to make any amendment, scrupulous care should be taken to safeguard the rights of minorities."

One of the features of the debate was the unanimity of opinion that the time had arrived for considering this question. The proposal of Mr. Guthrie for a conference received the hearty support of Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former Minister of Justice. Armand Lavergne, Conservative, Montmagny, was ready to trust his fellow Canadians to do justice to the minorities, and he therefore heartily supported the resolution. Canada had made great progress in the past few years, Mr. Woodsworth said, to be able to discuss with such singleness of view a question which a few years ago evoked ridicule on himself.

APOLOGY WILL NOT BE GIVEN

Vancouver Police Chief Refuses to Retract Statements

VANCOUVER, May 11 (CP).—Police Chief W. J. Bingham has no intention of making an apology or retraction for statements he made in a report to the City Council regarding Henry Burgess, who has been asked by the council to resign from the police commission.

Announcement to this effect was made this morning by Chief Bingham. He declined to comment further on the situation.

The next step may be institution of an action for libel against the chief by Mr. Burgess. J. Hamilton Read, counsel for the latter, stated that if an apology or retraction were not forthcoming a writ would be issued against the chief.

The statement to which Mr. Burgess takes objection was contained in the chief's report on Mr. Burgess' conviction, years ago, for appropriating a small quantity of lumber. The report related an alleged conversation in which Mr. Burgess was said to have asked the chief if "there was any money hanging on to this commission job." It is for this part of the report that Mr. Burgess demands an apology.

Mr. Burgess, through his counsel, wrote to Chief Bingham some days ago on the subject, but this morning the chief definitely stated that he has no intention of complying with Mr. Burgess' request.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN MADRID AS ANTI-RELIGIOUS RIOTING SPREADS IN SPAIN

Jesuit Convent at Malaga Destroyed by Mob—Civil Guards Repulse Attack in Seville—Archbishop's Palace Set Afire and Automobile Destroyed —Disorder in Other Cities

Thousands of Priests and Nuns Forced to Seek Safety

Call to Arms Sounded as Churches in Capital Are Destroyed by Fire—Infantry March in Streets and Armored Cars Rattle Out—Crack Cavalry Unit Summoned

By CLARENCE DUBOSE
(Copyright, 1931, by the Associated Press)

MADRID, May 12.—Anti-religious rioting spread today to half a dozen other important cities throughout Spain, according to dispatches received here early this morning. A mob of 300 persons burned a Jesuit convent at Malaga shortly after midnight. Other cities in which riots occurred were Saragossa, Codova, Cadiz, Bilbao and Seville.

At Seville a mob assailed the gates of a convent in which a number of aged nuns were housed, broke the gates, but were repulsed by civil guards before they could reach the convent itself. A number of the nuns fled through the rear doors and took refuge in the houses of friends.

SET BUILDING AFIRE

At Malaga the same mob which burned the Jesuit house also entered the archbishop's palace, destroyed the interior furnishings and set the building afire.

They forced the archbishop's chauffeur to drive his car about the city, cheering the anti-church demonstrators. Later they returned to the palace and burned the automobile.

At Saragossa a mob attempted to burn the new Roman Catholic Seminary, but police repulsed the rioters without injury. The building was actually set on fire, but the flames were quenched without serious damage.

Convent windows were stoned and and statues broken at Cordova, but no buildings were burned.

TROOPS CALLED OUT

Meanwhile, in Madrid, where a dozen Roman Catholic Churches, schools and religious houses were burned by defiant mobs, the Government had clamped down a state of war upon the capital.

While smoke still curled from the embers of the burning churches, bugles and drums sounded a call to arms. Infantry marched into the streets and armored cars and machine guns rattled out.

From the garrison of Alcala de Henares the flower of Spanish cavalry rode hard for the capital on emergency orders from the Republican Cabinet, which had declared a state of martial law.

THOUSANDS FLEE

Reliable Roman Catholic sources stated that more than 10,000 nuns and priests had abandoned convents and religious houses and had either taken refuge with friends or left the city.

A long-smoldering resentment of extreme radical groups against the power of the Church in Spain was thought to figure largely in the background of the outbreak, and it was believed this was augmented by a feeling by these groups that the new Government has been to conciliatory with the Church.

Prince of Wales Offers to "Pool" Trade Experience

BIRMINGHAM, May 11 (AP).—The Prince of Wales, in an address before 1,400 British manufacturers here tonight, offered to "pool" the experience he gleaned in South America with that of the manufacturers, in an attempt to restore prosperity to Britain.

It was his first public appearance since his South American tour, and he was given a great ovation.

BLAST KILLS SIX MINERS

Twelve Others Are Burned by Explosion at River Hebert, N.S.

CAUSE OF TRAGEDY IS NOT DETERMINED YET

RIVER HEBERT, N.S., May 11 (CP).—Eight months ago the residents of this little Cumberland County mining town gathered about the pithead of Old Victoria mine to see the bodies of seven men brought to the surface. Today they clustered around the bank at New Victoria as six victims of another gas blast were carried out under the sky.

There was comparatively little hysteria emotion as the dead were brought up with the assistance of men who, but a short while before, had been laboring on the 700-foot level when a flash lit up their subterranean chamber, wind smote them, and a low rumble sent them running for the slipe. But the explosion left four widows and twenty-nine fatherless children.

The dead are Adolph Le Blanc and Sanford Leger, both single; George Quinn and Thomas Jones, each of whom leaves a wife and ten children; Charles Stevens, married, with five children; Sam Rector, married, and the father of four. Garfield Stevens lies badly burned and may not recover; Burton Scott was seriously injured, and ten others suffered superficial burns and hurts.

Cause of the explosion had not definitely been established by a special investigation committee that went down into the mine this afternoon. A safety-lamp and two burnt matches, however, were discovered near the scene of the blast. Closed lamps are decreed in this mine, and the men are not supposed to attempt to relight their lamps by

Peter Veregin Is Calling Truce in Doukhobor Colony

Peace Conference Set for Friday at Thrums, Acting Premier Pooley Is Informed by Returned Leader of Sect

FIRM action by the Province in demanding that Doukhobors in British Columbia compose their differences, and do it within the four walls of the law, bore fruit this week, with truce reigning in the foreign colonies between the community Doukhobors and the Sons of Freedom. Acting Premier Pooley was advised yesterday by Peter Veregin that he had called a conference of his people for Friday at 3 p.m., when the terms of a settlement between the community and noncommunity sects will be discussed.

This meeting is to be held at Thrums, and prominent citizens of Nelson and British farmers from the surrounding districts are to be asked to attend, to witness the length to which the Christian Community of the Universal Brotherhood is prepared to go to bring peace in the colony settlements. Whether the Sons of Freedom will accept this truce is another matter, but at all events the Doukhobors are to table all their cards at the Friday conference in an effort to effect a permanent settlement of differences outstanding between the two groups.

Peter Veregin, recently returned from Saskatchewan, called on Assistant Commissioner W. R. Dunwoody at Brilliant over the week-end and expressed the utmost anxiety that peace be restored in the area. The Doukhobors, he said, were prepared to make sacrifices to effect a settlement with the Sons of Freedom, and to this end the Friday conference had been arranged.

The development followed a sharp note from Acting Premier Pooley to the head of the Doukhobor colony, warning Mr. Veregin that the Province could make no distinction between members of his community and the Sons of Freedom, if either sect broke the laws of the land. Mr. Pooley recited the long chain of trouble and unrest that has been British Columbia's experience with these settlers and intimated that stern measures would be resorted to if these troubles did not cease.

COUGAR FOLLOWED TWO SMALL BOYS

NANAIMO, May 11.—George D. Scott, farmer of Whiskey Creek section of Hilliers, was in the city today collecting $30 bounty on a young cougar which he shot yesterday after the young beast had come into contact with Scott's two young sons on a trail a short distance from the farmhouse.

Two boys were out for a walk on the trail when the cougar emerged from the brush between two boys. It followed the younger, a lad of only six years of age, and sniffed at his bare legs, but the youngster was ignorant of the danger threatening him. The elder boy gave the alarm, and hearing his son shout "cougar," Scott seized his rifle and, taking his dog, rushed to the scene and soon had the panther treed and dispatched.

M. BRIAND WILL BE CANDIDATE

French Foreign Minister Enters Race for Presidency of Republic

PARIS, May 11 (AP).—Foreign Minister Aristide Briand formally announced tonight his candidacy for the presidency of the French Republic.

He waited until thirty representatives of all Moderate and Liberal groups of the Chamber and Senate crowded into his office, declaring it was his obligation to submit his name for the election on Wednesday. He replied that the interpretation given his candidacy by the delegation would not permit him to escape the appeal.

Speaking for the group, Gaston Thomson, dean of the Moderates, had told the veteran foreign minister it was no time for him to consider the question of party differences of personal convenience, but it was his duty to the nation to become a candidate.

WILL NOT WITHDRAW

Paul Doumer, president of the Senate, whose candidacy was announced last week, later said he had decided to stand by his own candidacy. In his opinion, he said, M. Briand would do better to remain in the Foreign Office and continue his peace work.

By this move, M. Doumer has in effect accepted the support of the Conservatives, who had already rallied to his cause. He was abandoned by his own democratic left group in the Senate before M. Briand entered the running.

TO HONOR MATHEMATICIAN

BALTIMORE, Md., May 11 (AP).—Johns Hopkins University on Friday will confer an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws on Sir James Hopwood Jeans, English mathematician, who is en route to Baltimore from the Pacific Coast, it was announced today.

RAISING PIGS UNPROFITABLE

Women's Council Agitated Because China Gets Cheaper Wheat

Aroused by the information that owing to the high freight rates between here and the Prairies, China can buy Canadian-grown wheat at just half the price that Victoria has to pay for it, the Victoria Council of Women yesterday afternoon in regular session decided to invite the deputy minister of agriculture to address them at their next meeting to explain the conditions relating to the pork market here.

The matter arose out of the report given by Mrs. Johnson concerning her interview with the Department of Agriculture relevant to the importation of pork, of which the Nanaimo Local Council had complained in a resolution forwarded to the provincial council. The deputy minister, it was stated, had pointed out that, despite the encouragement given by the Government by the offering of prizes to stockbreeders at the various provincial shows, the raising of pigs had not proved sufficiently profitable here owing to the high cost of feed. British Columbia was not self-supporting in the matter of pork. Importations, however, were mainly from the Prairie Provinces and not from foreign ports.

Mrs. V. S. Maclachlan endorsed this statement by quoting from the Government year book figures showing that importations of pork from other provinces in 1929 represented $590,352 in value, while from foreign sources they represented only $44,026. Mrs. Powers suggested that the council should once more agitate for reduction of freight rates between here and the Prairies. Other speakers who had disappointing experiences in trying to grow and market pork here profitably gave the meeting the benefit of these.

The list of agenda of the Provincial Council of Women meeting, to be held in North Vancouver on May 20, was read, and a resume of the resolutions indicated that this from Nanaimo Council on the importation of pork to British Columbia would be included, also resolutions concerning the School Act, sent in by North Vancouver Council, and lowing of Cabinet ministers' salaries. Dean Bollert, of the University of British Columbia, will be the speaker.

A letter from the National Council enclosed agenda for the twenty-eighth annual meeting to be held in Halifax this Summer, and the following nominations were endorsed: For president, Miss Winifred Kidd (only nominee); for seven vice-presidents, Mrs. Thorburn, Mrs. R. J. Macdonald (Saskatoon), Mrs. Dunbar Hudson (Winnipeg), Mrs. R. W. Grant (New Glasgow), Mrs. Robert Fork (Ottawa), Miss Crease (Victoria), and Mrs. Hetherington; for corresponding secretary, Mrs. Rowatt (Ottawa); for recording secretary, Mrs. Tweed; for treasurer, Mrs. Quibble; and the following for standing committees' conveners: Arts and letters, Mrs. Dignam; cinema, Mrs. Menzies; economics, Mrs. Hill; education, Mrs. Ruby Mason; housing and town planning, Miss Ambrose (Hamilton); laws for protection of women and children, Miss Henniker; mental hygiene, Mrs. J. R. Gillis (New Westminster); immigration, Mrs. Munro (Saskatoon); morals, Mrs. Fallis (Vancouver); national recreation, Mrs. J. A. Wilson (Ottawa); natural resources, Mrs. Walter Creswick; public health, Dr. Edna Guest (Toronto); taxation, Mrs. John Robertson (Vancouver); trades and professions, Miss Mary McManon (Toronto).

SUPPORT COMMISSION

The council unanimously endored a recommendation by Mrs. William Grant, seconded by Mrs. McMicking, that the council ask the City Council to support the parks commissioners' report, and also warmly supported a motion by Mrs. Grant that a letter of appreciation be sent to the Attorney-General for his action in putting through legislation protecting dogwood.

open flame. A theory that the tragedy might have been caused by an explosion of dynamite used in shot-firing was being considered by the committee.

SEVEN IN CHAMBER

Only seven men were actually working in the chamber where the blast occurred. Six of them are dead. The only man who may be able to tell what happened is Garfield Stevens.

Forty men were underground when the first trickles of gas smoke were seen rising from the mouth of the main slope. Within a few minutes, word that an explosion had occurred brought crowds of people to the bankhead. A working party was organized and went down the slope to gamble with afterdamp and choking fumes. Five men were met struggling up the incline and sent quickly to the surface. In the interim, the other survivors had removed a stopping leading out of the main slope to the main airway and found their way to the surface by this route.

Denial that any arrests had been made was issued tonight by Detective-Chief George Smith.

Bladder Troubles Bother Many Past 40

Seven Out of Ten Are Victims But Writer Tells How "Uratabs" Bring Swift, Amazing Relief With Renewed Vital Force

"No one knows better than I, the horror of joyless days and sleepless nights. There have been times when I felt hopeless and helpless—and when my weakness caused me the most intense humiliation. Only those who have gone through such tortures can possibly realize my great satisfaction when Dr. Southworth's URATABS brought me quick relief. URATABS are truly wonderful and I give them full praise." Such amazing evidence serves as convincing proof of the power of URATABS to relieve those distressing ailments so often a handicap to those in middle life.

NATIONALISTS ARE RETURNED

Government Party in Tasmania Back in Power With Increased Majority

HOBART, Tasmania, May 11 (CP).—The return to power with an increased majority of the Nationalist Government Party in the Tasmanian state elections of Saturday, was assured tonight.

Hon. J. C. McPhee, leader of the party and Premier of Tasmania since June, 1928, described the results as an emphatic declaration against the inflation policy of Prime Minister James Scullin and Hon. E. G. Theodore, Commonwealth Treasurer.

SWING TO NATIONALISM

The Tasmanian elections provided the first definite swing towards Nationalism, as opposed to Labor, since the Australian financial crisis developed eighteen months ago, and since the Commonwealth Labor Party went into office in the general elections of October, 1929.

"The result indicates the people of Tasmania are for honest Government and sound finance," Premier McPhee declared.

WOULD CREATE CONFIDENCE

There were wonderful possibilities for the expansion of the primary industries of Tasmania, and a great Nationalist victory in the next general elections in Australia would create confidence in the minds of those who had the capital to invest in such industries, he said.

All ministers holding portfolios in the Tasmanian Cabinet were re-elected. The Nationalists are assured of seventeen seats in a House of thirty members. One Independent Nationalist and ten Laborites were elected, the other two seats being doubtful.

STRIKERS START RIOTING IN LIMA

One Killed and Three Injured in Clash With Police—Martial Law Declared

LIMA, May 11 (AP).—Police fired on a group of taxicab strikers here today as they tried to burn a bus carrying passengers. One striker was killed; three were injured. The strike had spread to Callao, where other workers have joined the movement. Steamship crews unloaded their own cargoes and the customs house was closed.

Street cars and railroads were affected. Textile workers in Lima quit today, but street cars and buses continued, although several were stoned.

Students of the Catholic University Engineering School and other minor colleges joined the strikers.

The Junta Government stated a state of siege existed in Lima and a court-martial would prosecute sedition charges. Those convicted would be sentenced to death.

PREMIER BENNETT SAYS DEPRESSION IS AT DEAD LEVEL

"Today we asked the Canadian people to exchange the securities which they had received for the money they advanced to the Government several years ago, for newer securities at a lower rate of interest in order that they may continue to be investors in the Dominion of Canada. The magnificent response they have made indicates that Canadians of all classes, regardless of the provinces in which they live, are anxious to do what they can to assist in the development of this country, and to remove from the horizon what every Finance Minister must look at with alarm, namely, the matter of the vast millions of dollars of these securities maturing at an early date."

The issue opened today invited conversion of old bonds to the amount of $250,000,000, or approximately one-quarter of the number outstanding.

Four University Students Killed As Car Overturns

LAWRENCE, Kansas, May 11 (AP).—Four University of Kansas students were killed last night when their motor car apparently skidded and overturned on a slippery curve near Big Springs, between Lawrence and Topeka, Kansas. The dead are: Art Snyder, Fort Scott; Fred Speh, Wichita; Miss Frances McIntire, Wichita, and Miss Mildred Messmore, Kansas City.

Four Rebels Slain

RANGOON, Burma, May 11 (AP).—Four rebels were killed and several wounded when a party attacked the police station at Henzada yesterday. After opening fire the rebels tried to rush the station in hand-to-hand fighting, and a non-commissioned officer and a Sepoy were gravely wounded with swords. The rebels finally retreated in disorder under heavy fire.

FOUL PLAY IN NORTH FEARED

E. B. Haynes, Trapper, Missing for Month; Partner Committed Suicide

One month overdue in from his traplines in a lonely part of the Fraser River near Dome Creek, fifty miles eastward of Prince George on the line of the Canadian National Railways, the continued absence of Emmett Baxter Haynes, a trapper, is worrying the Provincial Police. Foul play is feared.

Haynes' partner, a man giving the name of Martin, recently arrived at Prince George, where three days later he committed suicide. The two men had been partners for a long period, and the nonarrival of Haynes has alarmed settlers in the northern area with fear for his safety.

Martin arrived at Prince George with a bale of furs, which he sold. A few days later he jumped from the Canadian National bridge into the Fraser River, drowning before aid could reach him. His death was reported to the Provincial Police headquarters as suicide.

Residents in the area have told the police that they fear foul play in connection with the long-continued disappearance of Haynes. The death of Martin has removed one source from which the authorities had hoped to secure word of Haynes' movements. Officers of the force at Prince George are investigating the case.

HALIBUT TREATY IS NOW IN FORCE

Ratifications Exchanged at Ottawa by Canada and U.S.—Commission Given More Power

OTTAWA, May 11 (CP).—Ratifications of the new halibut treaty between Canada and the United States have been exchanged and the treaty is now in force.

The exchange was effected through the United States Legation here. Premier R. B. Bennett, as Secretary of State for External Affairs, delivered the Canadian ratification signed by the King following approval by Parliament last session.

Hon. Hanford McNider, United States Minister, delivered to Premier Bennett the United States ratification signed by President Hoover with the approval of the United States Senate.

The new treaty is a revision of the 1923 halibut treaty, which has been in force since that date and governs halibut fishing operations on the Pacific Coast. The principal change in the new treaty is that it gives increased power to the International Fisheries Commission for controlling fishing in the North Pacific.

Operation On King Is Successful

PURCHASE, N.Y., May 11 (AP).—A bulletin from attending physicians late today said King Prajadhipok of Siam, who yesterday underwent an operation for removal of a cataract from his left eye, was suffering no pain and passed a restful night.

His eyes bandaged, the King had to remain quiet, but if he continues to improve he will be able shortly to listen to concerts from his Kingdom over a powerful radio receiving set installed at Ophir Hall last week.

After the bandages are removed he must wear dark glasses for a time, but eventually, with the aid of special spectacles, his vision will, it is believed, be virtually normal.

Points Out Need of City Airport Using Gordon Head Site

Alderman W. T. Straith Tells Gyros of Advantages of Area Selected, Details Cost, Possible Revenue and Aid to Unemployment Relief

Stressing the importance of an aerial transportation link with outside centres, Alderman W. T. Straith, chairman of the aviation section of the industrial committee of the City Council, made a strong and able plea for support of the proposed municipal airport at Gordon Head before the regular luncheon meeting of the Gyro Club yesterday at noon.

Alderman Straith, who has made a keen study of commercial and civil aviation from the standpoint of benefit to a community, explained to the Gyros the reason for an airport for land planes. He said the Dominion Government had intimated that all airmail and passenger planes from the East would be on wheels, because there are no lakes or bodies of water, on which planes could land, in the mountain area. Most of the flying north to Seattle is on wheels. All the flying in Portland and Tacoma is on wheels, and all pleasure planes are wheel jobs, Mr. Straith stated.

GORDON HEAD SITE

Points in favor of the Gordon Head site for an airport were detailed by Mr. Straith. The field, he said, would be less than ten minutes by auto from the City Hall. The Gordon Head port would have runways in all directions of 2,600 feet, free from power lines and away from the residential area. Victoria, he stated, had a much better fog condition than any other city on the Pacific Coast, and Gordon Head was the most favored situation in the city. This, Mr. Straith inferred, was important for Winter flying, as visibility was nearly always good, due to the high location of the Head being continuously swept by prevailing winds.

Mr. Straith explained a number of the requirements of a first-class airport, all of which, he contended, were available at Gordon Head. "Ease of drainage, field slope in all directions from the centre, good soil and turf for grass runways, highest elevation in the district, all cultivated land and good roads in all directions to and from the port." He said that buildings could be acquired for administration purposes at a low cost.

AID UNEMPLOYMENT

"One of the reasons why the airport project is being pressed at this time," Mr. Straith said, "is the unemployment situation. It is better to spend unemployment money on permanent improvements than to find it necessary to open wood camps for the purpose. The new airport will require an expenditure of approximately $75,000 in labor alone and this should take care of the unemployed for the next year. Instead of this amount being acquired out of a year's revenues, the cost will be spread over a period of from twenty-five to thirty years. Since this is an unemployment project the Dominion and Provincial Governments will be asked to contribute half the labor cost, which involves extensive drainage, grading and clearing work and very little material expenditure."

POSSIBLE REVENUES

Dealing with the prospects of revenue, Alderman Straith predicted that within a very short time the airport would pay its overhead, including sinking fund and interest. Estimates of revenue, he said, were difficult to determine accurately, but as examples of possibilities he quoted returns from some of the leading airports: St. Hubert's port has a revenue of $9,600 per month; Seattle made over $1,000 a month last year; Regina showed a loss of $100 a month in the first eight months of operation and a profit of $100 a month in the next three, and expects a surplus from now on. Mr. Straith predicted that, as soon as Victoria can provide the facilities, a great number of land machines would come. "That has been the experience of other airport centres. I might say that all space in the Vancouver airport hangar has been taken up. Rentals are derived from various sources, such as landing fees, use of night lights, gallonage charges on fuel, percentage of charges on sight-seeing passengers and services of operating mechanic and rent of hangar space."

COST OF PROJECT

Referring to costs, Mr. Straith referred to the Vancouver port. Vancouver, he stated, paid $300,000 for its land alone, while Victoria will only pay one-third of that figure, and Victoria will have the same high rating as Vancouver. "Our plan is not to be extravagant, but to acquire sufficient property to give us the Government's first-class rating. We do not intend to spend money on facilities which will not be required, but to follow a common sense policy of providing only those facilities of which we at present are in need."

Dominion Government assistance to the project is assured. The Government, Mr. Straith said, will give expert advice on all aviation matters, and will contribute a locating beacon free of cost and will also contribute half of the cost of flood lighting the field, the maximum grant to be $10,000. Flood lighting will be needed for night landings.

In conclusion, Mr. Straith said: "From the standpoint of convenience of location and adequacy of site, Victoria is extremely fortunate. There is no other level site of satisfactory area this side of Sidney. When we consider the plan which the project provides for taking care of unemployment, the ratepayers have never been asked to vote upon a better business proposition." Members of the Gyro Club promised co-operation and active support to the project.

Soviet Raises Russian Prices

MOSCOW, May 11 (AP).—Millions of Soviet citizens learned to their dismay today that during the past few days the Government had quietly raised the prices 50 per cent on food, liquor and practically all basic commodities.

This step was interpreted in many quarters as part of the Government's programme to deflate the currency, the outstanding total of which is at a huge figure. Commissar of Finance Grinko stated some time ago that there would be no further issuance of currency in 1931, indicating that authorities apparently had awakened to the appalling inflation and intended taking steps for stabilization.

Dr. J. S. Plaskett Leaves for Meeting of Royal Society in Toronto

DR. J. S. PLASKETT

Carrying with him four papers by members of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory staff, which he will read at the meeting this month at Toronto, of the Royal Society, Dr. J. S. Plaskett, director of the observatory here, left yesterday for the East, accompanied by Mrs. Plaskett. Historical Association to the Royal Society.

The titles and authors of the papers he will read before the astronomical section of the Royal Society are as follows: "Gaseous Matter in Space," by Dr. J. S. Plaskett and Dr. J. A. Pearce; "A Very Massive Steller System," by Dr. J. A. Pearce; "Line Contours of Wolf-Rayet Stars," by Dr. Beals; "Comparison of Victoria Velocities With Those of Other Observatories," by W. E. Harper.

From the British Columbia Historical Association, Dr. Plaskett has taken a comprehensive report of its year's activities, with reference to the papers read before the society during the year, and this will be given to the historical section of the Royal Society.

Penalty of War Acute Gastritis

West Croydon Man Had a Bad Time Until He Took Carter's Little Liver Pills

It is terribly disheartening when one's stomach and intestinal tract are weak. Trouble of this nature is often aggravated by a sluggish liver. It was so in the case of Mr. A. E. R., who writes:

"Discharged from his Majesty's forces with Acute Gastritis, I was left with a very weak inside, and those who suffer similarly know how very careful one must be in what one eats and what medicines one takes. Constipation and Indigestion generally commenced my attacks. Headaches and Bad Breath naturally followed. But today I am able to eat anything I fancy."

Vegetables, as everyone knows, promote health. Dr. Carter's Little Liver Pills are entirely vegetable and should not be confused with ordinary laxatives. These wonderful little pills will tone up your liver, invigorate your digestive tract and keep you in the best of health. Sold by druggists over 60 years. 25c and 75c red packages. (Advt.)

Nelson Folk Were Watching Colonists, But Police Liquor

SEVEN premises at Nelson were raided in a sudden coup by the Provincial Police on Friday evening, it was stated at the headquarters of the force here yesterday, after wireless results of the descent on the raided places had been received. The Liquor Control Board, it was intimated, is renewing its offensive against illegal sale of liquor. A number of prosecutions will follow the Nelson raids. Townspeople of Nelson mistook the concourse of officers as a muster in relation to the Doukhobor troubles of the adjacent area.

POSTPONE OPENING

VANCOUVER, May 11 (CP).—Vancouver's airport opening will be held on July 22 and 25, when more than twenty planes, which participate in the first Canadian air tour, reach the Coast after a flight over the Rockies.

This was decided at a meeting of the City Council this afternoon, when Alderman E. W. Dean reported that he had received a wire from City Solicitor J. B. Williams, now in Ottawa, regarding arrangements for the tour.

Salt Salmon Importers From Japan Arrive on Visit to Province

WILL SPEND SOME TIME IN AMERICA

VANCOUVER, May 11.—An important party of Japanese importers, headed by T. Kubota, of Tokio, arrived here this morning on the N.Y.K. liner, Ms. Heian Maru, to investigate salt salmon industries here, and confer with the leaders in that industry in this province. Mr. Kubota, who pioneered the salt salmon export from this province several years ago, now with his associates buys the entire pack. This, last year, was 14,000,000 pounds of fish. In 1928, the banner year, they bought from British Columbia 23,500,000 pounds.

The party consists of Mr. Kubota, manager of the Moiyama Company, of Tokio; Z. Hayamizu, manager Moriu Company of Tokio; S. Okawa, owner Okawa Company, Tokio; S. Ohtsuka, owner Ohtsuka Company of Nagano; T. Suzuki, manager Seihiko Company, Tokio; S. Iiyama, owner Iiyama Company, Niigata. They represent the Japanese Salt Salmon Importers' Association.

None of them have ever been in Vancouver before, though they have dealt with the port for many years. They will spend about a fortnight here, suggesting improvements on curing and packing, and discussing other phases of the business. These men are the authorized representatives of Tokio in the Japan fishing and marketing conference, and are very influential in the general fishing and importing world. From Vancouver they propose to proceed south to Los Angeles, thence to Chicago, Washington and New York, returning home via San Francisco on Ms. Asama Maru, June 24. While in Vancouver they are being entertained by prominent Japanese business men of this port.

AERIALIST'S ASHES CARRIED BY STEAMER

SAN DIEGO, May 11 (AP).—The ashes of Lillian Leitzel, famous aerialist, thirty-seven years old, who met her death at Copenhagen, Denmark, on February 13, were brought here Friday on the Panama Pacific liner Pennsylvania.

The famous feminine trapeze performer was killed when a swivel of one of the trapezes which she used snapped, hurling her thirty feet to the floor of a theatre. Her ashes were brought from Denmark by Mabel Gould, who will turn them over today to Alfredo Codono, husband of the aerialist, at Long Beach.

If there is a compelling reason why a thorough and exhaustive investigation should be held into the finances of the Canadian National Railways it is found in some figures which Dr. R. J. Manion, the responsible minister, has presented to Parliament. He shows that on December 31, 1922, the capital debt of the Canadian National Railways was $1,379,186,574.20, whereas on December 31, 1930, that capital debt had increased to $2,150,781,545.79. That is an added indebtedness of $771,594,971.59 in eight years. On the later date the funded debt held by the public was $1,168,565,862.63; the loans from the Dominion, $604,406,239.42; interest on loans accrued, but not paid, $322,155,901.96; short term loans (public), $8,993,000, and short term loans (Minister of Finance), $46,660,541.78.

In the eight years in question there was $87,662,132.61 expended on building and acquiring branch lines. On freight and passenger terminals the outlay was $9,228,315.22. On new equipment, additions and betterments to equipment, less retirements, during the eight years the amount expended was $127,931,180.81. In 1922 the payroll of the C.N.R., not including the Central Vermont Railway, was $144,397,294, and in 1930, including the Central Vermont, it was $159,675,111. Among the items of information furnished by Dr. Manion in answer to questions in Parliament allusion is made to the triangular ferry service on this coast. The service, at the time of the answer, was being operated by the Ss. Prince David, which cost $2,158,203. A second boat is to be placed in service this month.

Obviously a nationally-owned system which has increased its indebtedness by over 50 per cent in the space of eight years cannot be held to be operating economically unless its net revenues increase in proportion. In effect what the figures made public by Dr. Manion show is that the Canadian National Railways mean an increased capital obligation to the people of the Dominion at the rate of almost $100,000,000 a year. It is a question of very serious import to determine how long an accumulating burden of this character can be borne. In effect it means that, through lack of adequate parliamentary and governmental supervision, indebtedness is being allowed to develop in a manner which is creating definite alarm. The indication of this that we have at our own doorsteps is the provision of three coasting steamers by the C.N.R. at a cost of over $2,000,000 each designed to compete in services already long established and admirably and fully served, able, indeed, to deal with all the business that offers.

The time has arrived to put an end to the prodigality of expenditure which has marked the fortunes of the Canadian National Railways in the past eight years. No one wants to see efficiency in operation of that system impaired. What is wanted is the elimination of wastages, the putting of an end to the outlay of capital for the purpose of wanton competition in which both the C.N.R. and competing interests must lose, and far more rigid parliamentary supervision over the conduct of the entire system than has prevailed since national ownership of railways was inaugurated. It is with these purposes in view that the finances of the C.N.R. will be the subject of a full-dress debate in Parliament during the present session. In the light of the significance of the figures which Dr. Manion has disclosed public interest will be centred on the course that Parliament will follow to rectify conditions that have been the subject of so much grave comment.

SOCIALISM"S DECLINE

The one thing that has been clearly demonstrated in all countries where Socialistic policies have been put into practice is that under them taxation invariably increases. It is by virtue of that taxation and the purposes for which it is devised that unemployment has been accentuated, laziness fostered and indolence and incivility bred in Government offices. The subject of the decline and fall of Socialism is dealt with by Mr. W. A. Hirst in The Quarterly Review. He sees that it has brought in its train those strikes that inflict temporary and permanent hardships on all classes. He points to the abuses of the dole. The lazy man, he says, will not work if he can live tolerably without it. There is the example of Australia where Socialism has brought waste and detriment.

Mr. Hirst believes that the general temperament of the British people is not of the character that will imbibe Socialism for long. It is not even congenial to the middle medicine of Fabianism. In this respect he says: "The worker does not like meddling, and probably is beginning to realize that heavy taxation prejudices his prospects of employment. He respects private property, especially when it is his own. Further, in this generation a great change has come about, which works in the same direction. The place that amusements take in the general life has expanded so greatly as to be almost overwhelming. The cinemas draw crowds. Restaurants are crowded. Newspapers devote much space to sporting intelligence, and games are played extensively and watched by enormous crowds. People thus preoccupied will not give much attention to revolutionary politics."

In effect, the conclusion reached by Mr. Hirst is that Socialism, after a rapid rise, is hastening to decay. From the beginning, in Great Britain at all events, he believes that it was planted in uncongenial soil without much depth of earth, and as a consequence it is withering away. The need of today, in Mr. Hirst's opinion, is not for changes of form, but for good and economical administration, firm Government at home and abroad, and the cutting down of taxation. He says that Socialism cannot provide these things and hence it is declining towards extinction.

THE SADNESS OF SOVIETISM

Mr. Clarence Warren, a well known American mining engineer is one of the foreigners who have been helping Russia with her Five-Year Plan and he has gone back to the United States after a year's work under Sovietism. One motive behind the Soviet plan, he says, is to hoard gold and send paper money out to other countries. In industrialism in Russia there is a tremendous amount of waste, production costs there being about three or four times what they are in the United States. America and Germany seem so anxious to assist Russia in her Five-Year Plan that there is now a surplus of highly trained technicians in the country, but a shortage of skilled labor. The reason for the latter condition Mr. Warren believes is that so many men are being drafted to the army.

Mr. Warren, while believing in the possibility of Russia working her way to some degree of efficiency, thinks the process will occupy about thirty years. He realizes that many of the people there do not belong to the Communist Party and are tired of the system. They cannot protest, however, because the Communists control the army. In Russia, he says, he never saw anyone smile. Even the Americans who are assisting in the rehabilitation of the country are infected by the seriousness that is evident everywhere. The effect on American women, he says, is to drive them to drink as they have nothing to do except to attend cocktail parties, according to Mr. Warren.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL'S SUCCESS

This year's Musical Festival, which was held last week, again illustrated the substantial and sustained public interest that invests this annual event. The entries were not so numerous as in the preceding year, but the appreciation of the different competitions and contests showed no signs of diminution. The adjudicators were of high competence, and the fact that they were so outspoken in their criticisms, which were always of a constructive character, should do much to assist in raising the musical standard here. The music teachers who constitute such a large asset in the success of any musical festival of the sort will welcome and benefit by the experience of such men as Sir Hugh Roberton and those associated with him as judges. It was a most happy arrangement by which it was possible to secure the services of such competent judges, and those responsible for the festival deserve hearty congratulations. It was an undoubted success, judged from every angle, and has now become an established and eagerly-looked-forward-to event by the music-loving public as well as the participants.

The British Labor Government secured office on the strength of its promises to find a solution for the unemployment problem. It has failed hopelessly and miserably in the task. In commenting on this The London Daily Telegraph says: "The really novel inspirations of this Government with respect to unemployment are always just about to be born but never arrive at the actual birth. How will such an inchoate programme engender confidence? It will not excite a hope or stir a pulse. This Government is only good at destruction; its genius is shown in putting men out of employment, not in finding work for the unemployed."

ENEMIES WITHIN THE GATES

It is not surprising that the grave distractions of the time, the pitiful incompetence of the Federal Government in dealing with them, and the dishonesty of the repudiation policy proclaimed by the Premier of New South Wales should have evoked angry and threatening dissatisfaction. Many people feel that Australia is like a cork tossed amidst a swirl of waters, rather than like a boat intelligently steered. Public men who ought to be actuated by a feeling of responsibility behave like dingoes worrying sheep, with their rival policies damaging the good name of Australia. It is no wonder, therefore, that a feeling of revulsion is spreading throughout the country. The worst and most dangerous enemies Australia has today are not foreign, but internal—the dingoes in the paddock.—Melbourne Australasian.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

True, I talk of dreams.
Which are the children of an idle brain,
Begot of nothing but vain fantasy.
—Shakespeare.

We remember reading somewhere something about what happens to the nation when its people are without vision. We read almost every morning the views of persons eminent in the business and political affairs of the world about the existing depression. Some of the authorities declare that there is really no basic reason for the depression; that the depression is merely an unnecessary and illogical state of mind; that if the misapprehension about business being bad could be removed by mental or psychological suggestion, or something of that kind, business would immediately become good; that if by some magical process the cloud of gloom could be blown away, confidence would be restored and everybody would be busy and happy.

* * *

After looking at the busy streets of Victoria on Saturday we thought of the statements of the wise men and the soothsayers, and concluded that after all there might be something in their theories. There is something peculiar about the streets of Victoria. On gloomy days an observer will note that the streets are comparatively quiet and that business seems to be suffering from a depression, while on bright and sunny days the streets are more crowded with motor cars, pedestrians and shoppers than they ever were before, and the town appears to be more prosperous than it ever was before. Judging from the appearance of our streets on certain days, the population of the city and districts must be growing very fast, and the multitudes of people on the streets appear to have plenty of money to spend and bring joy to the hearts of the merchants.

* * *

And yet to a certain extent we fear the facts are at variance with the theories of the psychologists. There is some substance for the feeling, if not the fact, that business conditions are not as satisfactory as they should be considering that there is plenty in the land and no lack of any good or necessary thing. There is a famine in employment if there is an abundance of every other thing. There is only one thing lacking for the production of good times, and that is confidence, or vision. The times are somewhat out of joint, and they will never be right until they are properly adjusted. When an individual "goes upon a spree," he has to pay the penalty of his indiscretion. Communities everywhere have been indulging in a speculative orgy, and they are suffering from the consequences of their excesses.

* * *

If the business ills of the world could be cured by holding investigations, organizing leagues and holding conferences, by forming pools and attempting to control forces which are uncontrollable, and doing many other vain things, there should be a speedy end to all our woes and tribulations. But there is no royal road or short cut from a state of sickness to convalescence and strength.

* * *

There is the League of Nations, which was organized for the purpose of regulating the affairs of the nations and keeping them in good and peaceful order. Members of the league claim they have accomplished a great deal in averting war and promoting peace, and there may be some justification for that claim. But there are a multitude of leagues subsidiary to the main body, such as the league for the regulation of international labor and establishing uniformity in the conditions under which labor shall be performed in all the nations. That auxiliary league has passed resolutions fixing the number of hours which shall constitute a fair day's work, but it has not the power to enforce its decrees, and the consequences are that countries where unions have established fair wage scales and fair days' work, industries are suffering from the competition of industries in countries where the hours of labor are practically unlimited and the wage scales comparatively low.

* * *

Consider the condition of agriculture and the state to which it has been reduced by the unregulated competition of Russia. Certain optimists in the United States, where even the assistance of the state could not save the farmers from the consequences of the competition of Russia, are going to call an international conference for the purpose of considering what must be done to save agriculture from ruin. The subject the conference will consider when it meets will be an international limitation of the acres of land which shall be devoted to the peaceful but unprofitable pursuits of agriculture. Imagine such a proposal as that emanating from a company of practical-minded men. Suppose the suggestion were adopted and an international conference were held and passed the required resolution. Would the farmers of Russia, the farmers of Canada, or even the farmers of the United States, be governed by it? Of course there are multitudes of agriculutral inspectors in all countries, but the powers of the inspectors are limited, and we do not believe the farmers of any country would tolerate inspectorial interference with their individual liberties in such matters as the nature of the seed they must sow. The idea is quite as preposterous as the Canadian idea of a world wheat pool. Prosperity will come to the world in due season, but it will not be hastened by dreaming vain dreams and passing fatuous resolutions.

SWEEPSTAKES

Sir,—I feel sure every sporting citizen in British Columbia, also throughout Canada, will favor the stand Senator Barnard has taken in the matter of allowing sweepstakes under Government supervision. Our hospitals need help. Our people are a sport-loving people who don't mind losing so long as they have a run for their money.

A Government controlled sweepstake would not only safeguard the public's money but save large sums being sent to Ireland and Calcutta, which, of course, we never see again. Therefore I feel sure if we have one at home controlled by our own Government we shall not only interest outsiders to send in their little bit, but help the hospitals, which seem to be so badly in need of funds.

I would like to suggest that every sporting man and woman sit down and write a note to Senator Barnard at Ottawa, thanking him for the well timed effort he is trying to put through for not only safeguarding the people re sweepstakes, but in trying to keep our money in the country and helping the sick and needy. J. W. ARCHER.

SWEEPSTAKES FOR HOSPITALS

Sir,—In 1882 or 1883 the Roubaix newspapgr published a long and most circumstantial article about a disastrous fire which destroyed the Hotel de Ville, where was housed the galleries of the enormously valuable collection of pictures in Lille. It described the rescue of this picture and that, and some of the very large pictures could not be taken down in time, and the efforts of worthy citizens who assisted the firemen, and so on. The town hall was in a crowded part of the old section of the city. When the end of the article was reached there was a small sentence to the effect that this was what would happen if the pictures were not given a proper housing.

All the district was laughing, but the laughter turned to a serious consideration, and the result was that a lottery was organized with much enthusiasm. I do not remember the exact sum, but the prizes were, for the first, 100,000 francs; second, 50,000 francs, and there were smaller sums, and the total was somewhere about 10 per cent. The tickets were 1 franc each, and everybody bought them. The net result was the magnificent Palais des Beaux Arts, which was built in the middle of the Place de la Republique.

During the occupation of Lille most of the pictures were sent to Dusseldorf, and the building was badly damaged, but it has been restored, and the pictures are returned. (The Hotel de Ville was burnt down.) The famous "Tete de Cire," which the Germans looked for specially, was safely hidden in the cellars.

At the carnival after the lottery, a man went about carrying on his head a pot with a miserable castor oil plant, with a long, bare stem and two leaves atop, and this was labelled "le gros Lot." This was how a great public enterprise was carried out at a minimum of expense in the collection of money, and by dint of very small contributions.

It is a matter of serious thought, whether an annual lottery for the use of the hospitals would not be productive of more money than could be collected by Hospital Sundays, or street collections, at much less expenditure of energy and expense.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of May 12, 1881)

We have perfected arrangements for a resumption of telegraphic dispatches over the Western Union and Government wires. For a long time the connection was so uncertain as to be unreliable, and very little real service was rendered; the publication of dispatches which were frequently anticipated by mail. Under the new condition of things it is believed that there will be no more drawbacks, and we have therefore resumed the service on a footing which, we hope, will prove satisfactory and lasting.

A large freight wagon manufactured by Charles Ball, Johnson Street, was shipped for Yale on the steamer Western Slope yesterday. It is made of first-class material and will give a good account of itself in the interior.

One of the prisoners who was acquitted at yesterday's Assizes, almost without the jury quitting their seats, had lain eight months in gaol awaiting trial. And they call this a Christian country and a civilized people, governed by a people's government. Bah!

A few days ago a correspondent drew attention to the unkempt state of the school reserve. The square remains in the unfinished condition it was when the chain gang stopped work about a year ago. The very chains (Government property) which were used in blasting rock remain on the ground for the first thief to carry off. What does the Government intend to do with it?

WILL RELOCATE HEALTH CLINIC

Government Opens Bids to Convert Hornby Site at Vancouver

Growth in the work of the Provincial Health Laboratory, at present conducted through the use of facilities at the Vancouver General Hospital, will necessitate the opening up of separate premises for a continuation of the service, it was stated by Dr. Henry E. Young, Provincial Health Officer, yesterday. Two houses owned by the Government on the Hornby Street site, west of the courthouse, are to be converted immediately for the purpose. Dr. H. W. Hill will remain in charge of the work.

Bids, opened by Hon. W. A. McKenzie yesterday, for the conversion of the dwellings to laboratory purposes, were as follows: H. P. Leck, $7,945; Cameron Construction Company, Limited, $7,200, and Frank Warburton & Company, $4,417.

Red Cross Day

Today is Empire Red Cross Day. British Columbia is doing its part in carrying on the great peace time programme of the Red Cross in Canada.

At Pouce Coupe there is the Red Cross Hospital with its fifteen beds and efficient staff to care for the settlers in that district. New settlers are arriving continually and the little Red Cross outpost plays a very important part in the lives of these people.

Last year it was found necessary, with its increasing number of settlers, to give some help to those north of the Peace River. On May 1 the Outpost Grand Haven was opened, and at the end of the year the little two-bed Outpost had proven a refuge to sixteen mothers, with thirty-five others receiving necessary care and treatment. The nurse in charge also visits the homes of the settlers and the nine schools in the district.

The work of the society extends to the ex-soldiers in hospital, providing monthly comforts of cigarettes, tobacco, etc.

Each branch of the provincial division looks after its own local relief work.

The Junior Red Cross, originating in Canada in 1915, now has a membership of 250,000 Canadian children and 12,000,000 children throughout the world in forty-six countries.

The object of the Junior Red Cross in the schools is primarily the promotion of health among the children. Following "health" comes "service," and in connection with the latter a number of British Columbia crippled children, supported by the freewill offerings of the juniors, have, and some still are, undergoing treatment at the Solarium and other hospitals.

UPON THIS HILL

Upon this hill the world is at our feet;
Let us rest now and watch the day go by,
One who sees here the dawn's pale ranks retreat
Needs must await the sunset's pageantry.
This hill, remote and inaccessible,
Is like a bit of some bright world unknown,
A charmed world wherein no care can dwell,
Which we, together, straying, call our own.
Upon this hill let us see days go by,
But we must leave before the moon comes up;
I could not ever see the moonbeams lie
Below us in that valley's verdant cup
Or hear one wakened lark's note, sweet and low,
And then go back to that old world we know.

CABINET TAKES UP PARK ISSUE

Mount Douglas Question Under Review by Government —Council Delays Action

Disposition of affairs in connection with Mount Douglas Park will go before a full cabinet meeting of the Provincial Government, it was learned at the Legislative Buildings yesterday. Meanwhile, provincial officials decline to make any statement on the action of the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee relative to the report of the special commissioner, Oscar C. Bass, K.C., who conducted an inquiry earlier in the year.

SEEKS LEGAL ADVICE

The City Council has declined to take further steps until a report is received from the city solicitor, H. S. Pringle, as to the legality of a postponed move which might be construed as ignoring the report of the special commissioner and proceeding with the work, opposition to which forms the basis of the report of the commissioner.

At the last meeting of the Victoria-Saanich committee, a report submitted by Reeve William Crouch, of Saanich, was adopted. The report criticized the finding of the special commissioner and a recommendation was added "that the roadwork commenced be proceeded with immediately." The council members are not satisfied that they can proceed with the work in the face of the report of the special commission and in view of the fact that the work was halted last Fall by the Attorney-General of the Province.

BY-LAW ALSO HELD

Delayed on the motion to adopt the recommendation of the committee and proceed with the roadway, supporters of the move sought to put through the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Agreement By-law, but it was ordered to lie on the table until a report from the solicitor is tabled. Until the by-law is ratified by the council the committee cannot spend any money on properties which come under its jurisdiction. An amount of $3,000 is in estimates for the committee, of which about $750 is for improvements to Mount Douglas Park.

Last Fall complaints were taken to the Government concerning alleged spoliation of the Mount Douglas Park property by the cutting of trees, making a new roadway, and the removal of gravel from a gravel pit. The complaints resulted in Oscar C. Bass, K.C., being appointed a special commissioner to take evidence. Two sittings were held in the County Courtroom and many witnesses were examined, and Mr. Bass' report was finally presented to the parties concerned. The beaches and parks committee took exception to the findings and adopted a report from its chairman, Reeve Crouch.

Mount Douglas Park was deeded to the city of Victoria in trust for the people by the Provincial Government. The administration of the park was turned over to the beaches and parks committee, along with other park property outside the limits of the municipality.

MAYOR'S OPINION

Mayor Anscomb's opinion is that the city of Victoria, having accepted the property in trust, had the right to administer the property in the interests of the people. He maintained that, if the parties which deeded the property to the city were not satisfied with that administration, the city should resign from its trust and return the property to the Government. He stated his opposition to the report from the committee and intimated he would have opposed it had he been present at the meeting.

No further action will be taken in the matter until the city solicitor has prepared a statement setting out the position of the corporation having regard to the report, or finding, of the special commissioner.

A MUTUAL COMPANY

FLAMES cannot destroy walls and ceilings of Gyproc

GYPROC is the trade name of a wallboard extensively used in Canada for lining all interior walls, ceilings and partitions.

It is made from gypsum into sheets 4 to 10 feet long, 4 feet wide and 3/8 of an inch thick. Easy to handle and because it cuts and nails as simply as lumber, Gyproc Wallboard, that does not burn, can be swiftly put in place.

As well as being fire-resistant and inexpensive, Gyproc has structural strength and insulation value. It is an excellent base for Alabastine or Gyptex, but will take any form of decoration, although with its warm ivory colour it requires none when panelled.

Use Gyproc Joint Filler to seal the joints between the smooth, ivory coloured sheets of Wallboard and the resultant wall will be permanently draught and vermin-proof.

Fireproof Frame Construction

NO longer need frame construction be prey to fire. Practical experiments carried on during years of intensive research have proven that with Gyproc lining all interiors; Insulex, the great non-burning mineral insulation poured between joists and studding; a ½ or ¾ inch Gyproc used for sheathing, frame construction is made impregnable to destruction by fire.

Beware of Substitution!

GYPROC is the Canadian pioneer, the first and best non-burning wallboard for lining inside walls and ceilings. Every board is plainly marked "GYPROC" for your protection. When you build or remodel, be sure that you order Gyproc Wallboard. But more important—be certain that you get it and if a substitute is delivered, be good enough to inform us immediately so that we can take steps to protect you and others from loss.

Here are some Uses:

GYPROC can turn waste space in your home into usable quarters. For remodelling stores; for farm buildings and for putting up fire-safe partitions in factories or warehouses, etc., Gyproc is the exact material to use.

Python Gets Loose and Creates Some Excitement

BOSTON, May 11 (AP).—An eighteen-foot python at liberty on a storm-tossed steamer, such was the story brought here today by the British freighter City of Christiana, out of Calcutta.

The steamer was in mid-ocean, beset by heavy seas and strong winds, when the crate containing the python was broken open by motion of the vessel. The reptile crawled out and up to the poop deck as members of the steamer's Lascar crew fled in fright, all except E. B. Khan, who has a reputation even in his native India as a snake expert.

Khan grabbed the reptile by the head and tail and dragged it off to a reinforced packing case. The shipment was consigned to an animal farm at Nashua, N.H., for later distribution to zoos throughout the country.

Workless Attend Council Meeting But No Speakers

Apparently supporting a resolution passed on May Day, at a mass meeting of workers, protesting against the administration of relief moneys, a large delegation was present at the meeting of the City Council yesterday afternoon when the resolution came up for discussion. There were no speakers.

Members of the council took exception to the wording of the resolution, in which the Provincial Government and the council were criticized. It was pointed out that the Government and council had endeavored, with the means at their disposal, to give relief to the unemployed.

Individual aldermen reiterated their stand in connection with the unemployed, and urged that the Dominion Government be appealed to for assistance. A suggestion from Alderman R. A. C. Dewar to endorse the stand of Vancouver in demanding a conference of the mayors of Western Canada to discuss the situation, was adopted by the council. The letter from the Workers' Alliance was ordered filed. Alderman R. T. Williams moved that the Alliance be asked to furnish further information. He said he did not think the council had been delinquent with regard to unemployment.

Halts Publication of Von Bulow Memoirs

LONDON, May 11 (AP).—Publication of the memoirs of Prince Von Bulow, former German Chancellor, was suspended today temporarily by the publishers after Lord Lonsdale notified the company that he would hold it responsible for libelous statements the book contained.

AIRSCREW IMPORTANT

Japan and Russia Recently Acquired British Variable Pitch Gears

HOLLOW STEEL BLADE IS NEXT POSSIBILITY

Japan and Soviet Russia are among the powers which have recently acquired British variable pitch airscrews, built on the Hele-Shaw principle, from the Gloster Aircraft Company. This remarkable invention is the most successfull materialization yet achieved of an idea pursued by engineers for many years, and ranking with the wing of variable camber and area as a development which from time to time is confidently expected to have incalculable effects on the future of aviation.

The normal airscrew has fixed plades and is most efficient during one phase only of the flying done by the aircraft to which it is fitted. Thus, a screw designed for high speed may be inefficient while the aeroplane climbs and makes take-off difficult; conversely, a good climbing screw may effect the maximum speed of the machine. Compromise is one answer, as in many other problems of aircraft design. The designer fits the airscrew which gives best all-round results in the flying the particular aeroplane is intended to do; aeroplanes built for special work, the racing seaplanes constructed for the Schneider Trophy contests, for example, will naturally be equipped with airscrews more efficient at speed than in other ways. The choice of the right airscrew is most important and, on the basis of present knowledge, often exceedingly difficult. It is one of the key problems facing the builders of the Schneider Trophy racers this year.

Obviously the performance of any aircraft could be improved by an airscrew so constructed that the blades, moving automatically in flight under the carrying loads imposed on them, should always take up the angle of pitch best suited to the flying state of the aeroplane, whether it were moving forward at full throttle in level flight, climbing, taking off or diving.

The Hele-Shaw gear, working on hydralic principles, is embodied in the hub of the airscrew, and goes a long way to meet the demands of the aircraft designer. The earlier models of the gear were complicated and heavy, but steady development has brought down the weight and considerably simplified the mechanism. Severe endurance trials have failed to reveal any weakness of design, and the Gloster company is now working on the construction of hollow steel airscrews blades which may still further reduce the weight of the airscrew unit.

In actual flight the gear has completed about fifty hours flying with a Bristol "Jupiter" air-cooled radial engine. Further trials are planned with Rolls-Royce and Armstrong-Siddley motors.

SEEK JUDGMENT UPON TAX ISSUE

Province Defended Two Actions Before Supreme Court of Canada; Decisions Reserved

Colonel E. Pepler, solicitor for the province, has returned from Ottawa, where he represented the Attorney-General's department in two hearings before the Supreme Court of Canada.

Income tax to the extent of $3,922 is claimed by the province from the B.C. Fir & Cedar Lumber Company, which appealed to the Supreme Court of Canada from findings in favor of the province in the Supreme and Appeal Courts in British Columbia. Judgment was reserved.

The second appeal was that of Overn versus Strand, an issue in which the province supported the action taken by a sheriff at Prince George, when a seizure was made in civil proceedings in which right of action was later contested. Judgment was reserved in the case by the Supreme Court of Canada.

"UP FROM THE STICKS"

"Why is it," a feminine baseball fan wants to know, "that when a ballplayer comes to the big league they say he is coming 'up from the sticks?'"

We put this cute query to our sporting editor friend, and he tells us that it was Big Chief Meyers, the Mission Indian, formerly famous catcher with the New York Giants, who originated this expression which is now a part of baseball slang.

"Up from the sticks" is a variation of the well-known expression, "back in the tall timber," meaning "bush-league territory" or backwoods, or country.

Chief Meyers had a whimsical turn of mind. One day, while he was sitting in a Pullman, looking out of the windows, the train passed through a section of the Southland which was overgrown with tall, skinny pine trees.

"This is sure 'way down in the sticks," remarked the Chief. After that, he invariably referred to a minor leaguer who came from the smaller leagues as coming from "down in the sticks" or climbing "up from the sticks."

Eventually the term came to be used as applying to all sections not in the big leagues but that is taking it beyond Meyer's original meaning. He meant country where there was plenty of timber.

Bran was sold at $20.25 a ton; shorts at $22.25, and middlings at $25.25. The same company announced a cut of 10 cents per bag on rolled oats.

TRANSFERRED TO NEW LIGHTHOUSE

Lightkeeper Okell Goes From Trial Island to Albert Head—Other Tenders to Be Changed

The long expected changes in the British Columbia lighthouse service are about to become effective. Following the erection of the lighthouse at Albert Head, where there has been a temporary keeper since the light was placed in commission, a number of lighthouse keepers have been looking for a shift, and several are now about to be made. Lightkeeper Pilcher, now at the Sisters' Light, will be relieved by Lightkeeper Fleming, the former being transferred to Cape Beale, from which post, Lightkeeper Cox, now in charge there, will come to Trial Island, succeeding Lightkeeper Okell, who has been posted to Albert Head.

When the D.G.S. Estevan, Captain Harry Bilton, leaves her upper harbor berth today, fresh from her annual overhaul at the plant of the Victoria Machinery Depot, where she has been since the middle of March, she will proceed to the Sandheads, where she will move the lightship into a more northerly position, as she is at present directly in the middle of the channel which the new work undertaken by the Federal authorities is making at the mouth of the Fraser River.

On the completion of this work at the Sandheads, the Estevan will proceed to the lighthouses mentioned and will make the transfers, moving the families and their household belongings to the new locations.

Just Roamin' Around

By TWO ROVERS

A sunny morning is no exception in Victoria, but last Tuesday was an exceptionally sunny morning, so I jumped up from my seat in front of my typewriter, grabbed my coat (I always work in my shirt sleeves, when my shirts still possess sleeves) and snatching up my old and rather disreputable hat, opened the door and was just going to start down our passage to the elevator, when Rover, who had also jumped up from a snoozing, spread-out attitude, said: "What's the big idea?"

That sort of riled me. So I replied rather warmly: "None of your blamed business; come on! I'm off for a walk; can't stand being in all morning with the sun shining like a Summer sun and it's only May, yet. Let's get out, and take a chance on doing my work later!"

No doubt about it, it was simply grand out-of-doors. Everyone we met wore a smile, several wore several smiles, and so Rover and I started off for a bout of just roamin' about, hoping to meet adventure; and, sure, we did!

For once it wasn't a tag day! We were both sort of sorry, for, on a sunny morning that is exceptionally sunny the whole of Victoria, his wife and his children and his cousins and his aunts seem to be downtown. What a day for a tag day for old and decrepit bachelors, or for rusty, rusticating scribblers who are not able to find publishers to immortalize their scribbling; or for needy oil painters who basely use photographic bases; and for others, who paint over the face of things, too. Everyone would give something to anything, today!

How glad we were that we had obeyed that sudden impulse to get out into the sunshine, for, coming towards us, as we roamed about, was a girlish figure, all smiles, as ever, and with the sunniest of greetings she accosted us; and she looked as good as she is good-looking, a sight for sore eyes!

Of course we two rovers met her with open arms, so to speak, and politely asked her how she was, or words to that effect, knowing full well that she was feeling just as bonnie as she looked. Then she replied with a beamer, which being interpreted means a beaming smile, and said, just as if it was the very ordinary kind of a remark, but it is th first time we ever heard anyone give it with such a glorious, enthusiastic vim: "I'm just as fit as a fiddle, never felt better; oh! if I only could pass on some of my superhealth to my friends who are so sorely in need of better health, I would not trade my happiness for the so-called happiness of the rest of the world."

She was in a hurry, worse luck, to go and buy something, or perhaps to bargain-counter shop, so we had to let her go; but there were two jolly delighted and tickled-to-death old rovers after that, who spent the rest of the morning walking on air.

"What a lovely idea that lovely girl has in that good-to-look-at head of hers, Master!" said Rover, who is a keen observer, and he added: "She's a dear, with an ideal"

And I jolly well agree with him.

There is not, cannot be, a better way
Of showing one's affection for a pal,
Than taking up his burden, as you say,
And bearing his infirmities, dear gal!

I know this very thing you'd gladly do,
If it were possible, at all, today;
Your heart's unselfish, tender, loving, true!
There is not, cannot be, a better way!

You'd help your pal with every ounce of vim;
You'd give your very best to ease his pain;
That's how you would, should you accompany him;
Two Rovers hope they meet you soon, again!

This picture of peonies was shown at the last Fall exhibition under the title of "Fresh From the Market," which, fortunately for the interest which it draws to Victoria, was rechristened by the artist before she sent it to England.

PRINCESS Ileana of Rumania, sister of King Carol, and Archduke Anton of Hapsburg-Toscana, thirty-year-old aviator son of Archduke Leopold Salvatok of Hungary, whose engagement has been announced from the royal castle of Bucharest. ARCHDUKE LEOPOLD MUST HAVE DIVORCE TO MARRY CANADIAN VIENNA, May 11 (AP).—Archduke Leopold, brother of Archduke Anton of Austria, fiance of Princess Ileana of Rumania, hopes to marry a Canadian girl, Miss Alicia Gibson Coburn, at Paris, within the next three months if the proper arrangements can be made with the religious authorities, it is confirmed here.

Miss Coburn is the daughter of a well-known Canadian family.

The Archduke, who is thirty-four, has lived in New York for several years. He is not divorced, but only separated from his first wife, Baroness Dagmer Nicolics, and he cannot be remarried in the Catholic Church without a special ruling from Rome, which, it is believed, it would not be possible to obtain.

The only alternative, it was said, would be a civil marriage after the Archduke obtains a divorce, or affiliation with another church.

There were sixty-eight women candidates in the last general elections and fourteen were returned to the House of Commons.

Chilliwack Pioneer Dies on Mother's Day

CHILLIWACK, May 11 (CP).—On Sunday, the day given over by hundreds of people to the observance of Mother's Day, Chilliwack's "Mother," Mrs. Isaac Kipp, passed peacefully away at her home on Wellington Avenue, following a short illness.

Her passing, just as the evening bells had finished ringing in the church which had its beginning in her home in 1865, leaves a memory rare and beautiful, a character loved by all who knew her. Mr. Kipp predeceased his wife a few years ago. Of a family of nine children there are left to mourn, five sons and two daughters, E. A. Kipp, Frank Kipp, Fred Kipp, Chilliwack; Will Kipp, Vancouver; Arthur, in the North; Mrs. William Knight, the first white child born in Chilliwack Valley, and Mrs. G. Ed Chadsey, of Chilliwack. There are twenty-four grandchildren and thirty great-grandchildren.

The funeral will take place from the Chilliwack United Church on Wednesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, interment to take place in the I.O.O.F. Cemetery.

ENUMERATORS MAKING READY

Special Schools Now in Progress in B.C. for Census Men; Data Sought

Special schools for enumerators, who on June 1 will atart work on the Dominion census, are being conducted generally throughout the province now by census commissioners. All officials connected with the poll are sworn to secrecy, and may not, under pain of heavy penalty, divulge any knowledge that comes to them in the exercise of these duties.

W. G. Gaunce is the census commissioner for Victoria, with offices in the Hibben-Bone Block. W. O. Wallace, with office in the Post Office, is the commissioner for the Nanaimo district, which takes in Oak Bay, Esquimalt and Saanich municipalities, as well as the whole southern section of the Island from Nanaimo, excepting Victoria City.

Here is some of the information the enumerators must obtain of the public, and to which accurate answers should be given: name and address of each member of household; description of house, owned or rented, what rent paid; is there a radio; personal description of family, number, age, sex; country and place of birth of parents; nationality, year of immigration, or naturalized in what year; language spoken; religion; education; occupation, trade, profession or calling; if industry, class of worker; total earnings since June 1, 1930; if unemployed on June 1, 1931, what cause; and many other questions.

VOLUMINOUS FORMS

Enumeratora will have a busy time themselves, with five main types of census forms, and several others in special instances. The forms include those for population, agriculture, vacant farms, value of field crops, value of nonresident owned farms, animals kept on less than five acres, merchandising and service establishments, the blind and deaf, absentees, and houses closed or vacant.

All information given to census enumerators will be preserved in strictest confidence, it is stated. The public can help materially by having the answers to these questions ready, and in facilitating the work in every way possible when the call is made on their homes. The taking of a census in Canada is a big affair, and it will require all available co-operation on the part of the public to speed the work to a successful conclusion.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

FOOD AND THE SKIN

It is hard to understand why some folks continue to use creams, ointments, face powders, face steamings, and face massage to correct a poor complexion, when it has been demonstrated for years that "no other group of causes are more frequently affective in producing disease of the skin than improper diet, bad habits of eating and living, and the series of digestive disturbances that go with these."

As you know, if some individuals take alcohol the face becomes flushed; if they eat certain foods, hivea break out; if they take certain drugs the skin becomes itchy or irritable. You can see that this is direct evidence of the effect of these things upon the skin.

Now, the majority of people can eat just about anything and everything, and so perfectly does their digestive system handle things that they never have any skin eruption or irritation.

However, other individuals have a susceptibility, a peculiarity toward certain foods, and the eating of these foods will bring out hives (urticaria), in other intense itching, and in others an eczema that remains as long as these foods are eaten.

Such excellent foods as butter, eggs, and sugar, unless eaten in small quantities may cause skin irritation. This would show that in most cases it is not the quality of the food that causes the trouble, but just that the individual has a "peculiarity" toward that food.

On the other hand there are cases of chronic skin ailments where the way the food is prepared, is the cause of the skin trouble. Very hot bread, very fresh cakes and pastry, fried foods, and "prepared" foods that are so well prepared and finely divided that they require no chewing. This lack of chewing, which sends the food down to the stomach without sufficient of the mouth digestive juices, is a real factor in causing a poor skin.

Now there are no particular foods that can be called "good for the complexion," unless it might include stewed or preserved fruits and raw of slightly cooked leafy vegetables. An all round diet of meat, eggs, vegetables, milk and bread is advisable.

The one outstanding article of diet that is really helpful to the skin is plain water. Taken in small quantities with meals, and in large quantities during the day, it dilutes, softens, and makes food more digestible. It helps to wash out the system and the skin is thereby greatly benefitted.

Massage, steaming, and so forth help to "keep" a good complexion, but the skin should first be put into normal condition.

SIX ARE KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

PENDENNIS, Kas., May 11 (AP).—Five white men and a negro were killed and a soldier seriously injured here Saturday when fifteen cars of a Missouri Pacific freight train on which they were stealing a ride, were derailed and overturned.

Of the six dead, only two had been identified late today.

The wreck, which occurred about 5:30 o'clock this morning, was believed by trainmen to have resulted from a broken journal on one of the cars.

HUNTTING CUP GOLF MATCH WON BY VANCOUVER

FAVORITES WIN EASILY AT UPLANDS

Morrison and Brynjolfson Score One-Sided Victories in Club Tourney

JACK SAVIDENT AND CHALLONER DEFEATED

With the exception of three matches, favorites ran roughshod over their opponents in the opening rounds of the Uplands Golf Club championship Sunday. The select were in fine form and advanced to the quarter-finals without much difficulty.

Bob Morrison, the medalist, uncorked a flock of birdies and pars to take an easy decision from the veteran Al Falk, 7 and 6. Harold Brynjolfson, defending champion and holder of the British Columbia amateur crown, blasted whatever hopes Walter Newcombe had of winning the title by defeating him, 6 and 14. Both Morrison and Brynjolfson are favored to reach the final.

C. N. Westwood and Allan Craig were forced to the last green before eliminating Jack Savident and Bert Challoner, respectively. Challoner had a half stymie putt for a half on the eighteenth hole, but failed to make it, while Savident drove two balls out of bounds on the last hole, to drop the decision. H. G. MacKenzie was taken to the seventeenth green before he could shake off D. A. Macdonald.

Results follow:

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT

R. Morrison defeated A. C. Falk, 7 and 6.

H. O. English defeated E. Hanbury, 4 and 3.

VETERAN LEADS ENGLISH Ggolf

Harry Ball Tops First Round in Southport Tourney With 70—Wind Sends Scores Up

SOUTHPORT, England, May 11 (AP).—The longest trail of golfers that ever wound over British fairways today played the first qualifying round in the big Southport tournament, and low score went to Harry Ball, forty-six-year-old, Lancaster. Ball turned in his record score of 70 at Southport and Ainsdale.

Scoring was somewhat difficult for the majority today because of a strong southwest wind sweeping across the links.

None of the big names of British golf seemed on the border line of failure tonight, unless it was George Duncan, whose 80, at Keswick, indicated continued lack of his old form.

A. J. Lacey turned in a nice 71 at Keswick and Abe Mitchell and Aubrey Broomer had 74's. George Gadd carded a fine 76.

Joe Turnesa, of Elmsford, N.Y., led the United States contingent and for a time led the field with his 73. Horton Smith and Joe Kirkwood, of New York, carded 78's today, and Tony Manero, also of Elmsford, 79. Performances of the last three should be good enough to get them under 160—which appeared to be the limit—for the thirty-six holes qualifying play.

Firemen Down Vacs to Hold Baseball Lead

VANCOUVER, May 11.—Without the aid of their skipper, Jimmy Watters, the fighting Firemen maintained their position at the head of the Senior City Baseball League at Athletic Park Saturday afternoon by registering a 5-4 win over the V.A.C. outfit, while in the other end of the double-header, B.C. Telephones had a field day with the hickory, poling out twelve hits, including three doubles, beating Arrows, 7-2.

J.B.A.A. Rowing Committee Will Meet Tomorrow

Victoria High Track Meet to Be Held May 29

THE annual track and field day at the Victoria High School will be held on May 29 this year, according to word received from school officials yesterday. The meet was carded for May 22, but as the city schools gather on that day, the high school authorities switched their date. Preliminary trials will be held on Friday.

Doctor Dick's Letter Box

TIM MATSON

Dear Doctor:

The house opposite, I'm interested to note, has become tenanted after a vacancy of twenty years. It's most interesting! A truck pulls up every morning, which a man loads with empty bottles, and I'm sure some enterprising young fellows have started a bottle factory!!

It's a most unusual concern—run, I deduce, entirely on the lines of mutual good fellowship. The employees seem so happy about their work—I hear them singing and laughing far into the night.

And they are apparently men of ambition and integrity—long hours and fatigue mean nothing! Time and again, I've seen a man spring up the steps at eleven in the morning, only to be literally carried down later, hugging one of the bottles he has made, which I presume he is proud of, and wants to take home to show his wife! Isn't that the true fighting spirit?

The only thing I'm worried about is the possibility of an invasion of Bulls. On several occasions, I've heard one of them shout, "Look out, boys—carload of Bulls comin' up Main Street," and, of course, I've fled to the cellar, and hoped to goodness they won't get into the garden.

I think it's a disgrace that Bulls are allowed at random! Why don't the Police "shoo" them away? If one of these men get hurt (when they're really tired—crawling on hands and knees—they'd have little chance of tackling a Bull rampant), I'm going to complain!! I admire enterprise, and I'd like to help them. What do you suggest?

Yours motherly,
Sarah Fumbleton (Spinster).

Dear Miss Fumbleton:

On receipt of your letter, I was dining with the Chief of Police. He read it, and was greatly impressed with your kindness, and desires to help those spirited fellows. However, he thinks it is a case the Police should handle (a case in which one case may lead to another), and advise you, especially in event of another Bull scare, to withdraw your horns.

He is familiar with a bottle works, knows there is always a certain amount of dirty work therein, and out of the kindness of his heart, is sending six of his men along, to do a little cleaning up. He's really awfully interested. He realizes a Bottle-works is indirectly associated with Bars, and believes he can actually arrange whereby the heads of this concern can be put in close contact with any number of them, with an outlook on the future that has no parallel.

As a final, kindly gesture, he is sending a closed car, with chauffeur, and any of those chaps that look at all tired, will not only be assisted into it, but driven (free!), to where they'll get a night's lodging (free!), will be well watched, and presented at Court, the following day!!

The Chief and I send congratulations and regards. The Chief wishes me to remind you he always keeps open house.

Yours truly,
Doctor Dick.

P.S.—The Chief says not to worry about the Bulls—this type only have horns on their automobiles

SPORTS DAY IS SET FOR MAY 22

Joint Meeting of Esquimalt Council and School Board Is Held

Final plans and arrangements for the annual Esquimalt school sports day were completed last night at a joint meeting of the Esquimalt Council and the School Board. Other business of the council, following the joint meeting, included a discussion for unemployment relief in the municipality.

The programme for the sports day, the amount of the prizes, and the various age limits for the races were set by the meeting. The event this year will be held on May 22, it was decided.

A discussion of the employment being provided on West Saanich Road, during the council meeting which followed, brought about a motion from Councillor Alexander Lockley that the reeve should interview Hon. R. H. Pooley, Attorney-General, and ask him in turn to interview the Provincial Public Works Department as to whether it would be possible to have work created in Esquimalt in order that the unemployment situation of the municipality might be somewhat relieved. The motion was carried and the interview will be made today.

Cameronian was quoted at nine to two against. Goyescas, owned by Marcel Boussac, of France, second to Cameronian in the Newmarket race, was second favorite today at thirteen to two against.

Marshal Field's Jacopo, Winter favorite for the Derby, was third in today's prices at 100 to eight, with Dr. Dolittle at 100 to six; Link Boy, Revellion and Orpen at twenty to one; Concerto at twenty-five to one and Carmelus at thirty-three to one.

The Derby will be run at Epsom Downs on June 3, over the mile and a half course—half a mile further than the Two Thousand Guineas.

P. WILLIAMS HURT AGAIN

Recurrence of Old Knee Ailment Hits Olympic Sprint Champ in Workout

VANCOUVER, May 11 (CP).—The old bugbear of injury, which has dogged Percy Williams since he won the world's sprint crown in the Olympics at Amsterdam in 1928, continues to camp on the Vancouver boy's trail. Working out at Athletic Park a couple of days ago, Percy sustained a recurrence of an old knee ailment and is again out of action. Percy tore a ligament in his leg in winning the sprint title at the Empire Games in Hamilton last August.

Percy Williams

Just how much the knee will retard Percy's preparation for his Summer track campaign will not be known until X-ray prints are developed.

Percy is in receipt of invitations to make a European tour, and also to run in California meets. The European trip was to have been with Jimmy Ball and Phil Edwards, two other noted track men, but Percy had not seriously considered it. The Southern jaunt appeared more practical, but even this may have to be given up if the knee fails to respond to treatment.

SELECT FIND GOING HARD IN TOURNEY

Norm Wallace, Medalist and Defending Champ, Loses at Colwood to Ismay

OTHER FAVORITES FALL BY WAYSIDE

Favorites found the going hard in the Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club championship Sunday and many of the select fell by the wayside, including the defending champion, Norm Wallace, Jack Matson, who won the Oak Bay title Sunday, Harold Lineham and Alex Straith, runners-up for the medal honors. Matson and Lineham were beaten during the middle of the week, while the remainder marked their exit Sunday.

The surprise defeat of Wallace, who was out after his third successive title, was the big upset of the first round matches. Wallace captured the medal honors with a fine 73 and was one of the favorites for the laurels, but fell before the brilliant putting of the veteran E. W. Ismay.

TAKES EARLY LEAD

Ismay took the lead by winning the first two holes and then continued his fine display throughout to win the match on the sixteenth green, 3 and 2. Wallace found trouble during the tussle, while his opponent played steady and as a result came through in fine style.

Sandy Marling, young son of Colwood's popular professional, accounted for Harold Lineham, while Matson bowed to the seniors' veteran R. W. Gibson. Percy Edmonds put out Alex Straith after a hectic match, which ended on the nineteenth hole.

MAINLAND WOMEN DOWN LOCAL SIDE BY 7 TO 5 SCORE

Representatives of Shaughnessy and Jericho Clubs Defeat Select Group of Twelve From Victoria and Royal Colwood After Nip-and-Tuck Match —Mrs. Hutchings Has Brilliant Round

Third Straight Win for Vancouver; B.C. Tourney to Get Under Way Today

Representatives of the Shaughnessy Heights and Jericho clubs, Vancouver, retained the prized Hunting Cup yesterday at the Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club, when they defeated the select group from Victoria and Colwood, 7 to 5, in the annual renewal of this eighteen-hole match play event. It was the third successive victory of the Mainlanders, and once again close matches featured the fixture. Ideal weather favored the competitors.

Several matches were decided on the last green, and the result was in doubt until the tenth couple had checked in. With three matches to go, Vancouver led 6 to 3, and Victoria needed all the rest to get a half, but the tenth proved to be the deciding match, as Victoria's last two representatives gained victories.

The feature match of the day, between Mrs. Hutchings, who will start defence of her British Columbia championship today at Colwood, and Mrs. Philbrick, found the Vancouver player shooting a sensational brand of golf, which Mrs. Prilbrick could not cope with. The local star was down practically the whole route, and could not catch her powerful Mainland opponent after the first few holes. Mrs. Hutchings was two up at the turn and ended the match on the fifteenth green, 4 and 3. Mrs. Hutchings' golf was practically flawless the whole route, and she turned in a card of 81 for the eighteen holes, including a 7 on the twelfth hole. Mrs. Philbrick also played fine golf and toured the layout in 87. Mrs. Hutching's card was four over women's par.

MRS. SAYWARD-WILSON WINS

The other feature engagement resulted in Mrs. Sayward-Wilson, Colwood champion, defeating Mrs. S. C. Sweeny, 3 and 2. This was a battle of former British Columbia titleholders, each having won the provincial title before. The pair rounded the turn all square, but once again Mrs. Sayward-Wilson showed her great finishing power and ended the match on the sixteenth green. The first nine was nip and tuck with Mrs. Sayward-Wilson leading by two holes at the fifth. Mrs. Sweeny, however, took two of the next four holes to square the match. Coming home, the Colwood titleholder unloosed a flock of pars and birdies to make the nine-hole journey in 41. Mrs. Sweeny found trouble with her putting at the latter stages of the match and three-putted several carpets, but registered a 45.

GET IN PRACTICE

All the competitors for the British Columbia championship, which will get under way today with the qualifying test over eighteen holes, were at the scene of the battle yesterday, practising. Although the majority contented themselves with familiarizing themselves with the difficult layout, many made complete rounds, and several fine cards were reported.

Miss Norah King, Vancouver, a recent arrival from England, made the first nine in 42, but did a lot of practising on the last nine and did not keep her score. Miss King is playing fine golf and is expected to be well up in the qualifying test.

Mrs. Hutchings' fine card, which was two strokes worse than her record of 79 for the course, and Mrs. Philbrick's follow:

Mrs. Hutchings—
Out ..... 455 366 454—42
In ..... 547 443 444—39—81

Mrs. Philbrick—
Out ..... 555 465 446—44
In ..... 545 564 455—43—87

Rangers Defeat Southend, 4-0, in Hunt Cup Opener

NANAIMO, May 9.—Park Rangers junior football team avenged their defeat by Southend last Saturday in the final for the Bagattin Cup by taking the opening round for the Hunt Cup 4-0 here Saturday afternoon from their old rivals. In today's game their aggressiveness bore fruit, Sharp opening the scoring a few minutes before half-time. White converted twice in the second interval and Hills secured the final tally. Southend aggregation showed weakness in many parts of the game, and Ostle, in defence, seemed to be the only man with the right idea. A large crowd witnessed the opening series of the Summer play-offs.

HANSEN PINS PAUL WILKINS

Seattle Matman Throws Chicagoan After Slow Start to Win Main Wrestling Event

BROOKS WINS BOUT FROM JACK McDONALD

Using a series of rabbit punches and body slams, which rendered his opponent groggy, Charlie Hansen, Seattle, captured the main event honors in the wrestling exhibitions staged Saturday night at Tillicum Gymnasium by pinning Paul Wilkins, Chicago, in straight falls in the fifth and sixth rounds. From the initial stanza throughout the second and third rounds, little or no action was the result. The grapplers opened up from then on and the fair crowd witnessed some action. In the semi-wind-up Rocky Brooks, Victoria, tossed McDonald to the mat twice after losing the first fall, to win from the Spokane wrestler.

After squirming around the ring for the first three rounds without much action, the matmen cut loose in the fourth with Wilkens being the aggressor. However, the fifth canto saw Hansen flinging Wilkins around the mat with a series of body slams, which finally resulted in the first fall after three minutes and thirty seconds.

Hansen still used his hard body slam along with rabbit punches to great advantage as the sixth round was only a minute and twenty seconds old when the Seattle exponent pinned his much heavier opponent for the second time.

BROOKS WINS

After two minutes and thirty seconds of rough and fast wrestling, McDonald pinned Brooks in the first round with a flying scissors. Brooks evened matters by knocking McDonald out with a double step-over hold and then took the verdict by using a body slam in the fifth.

Kellow won the curtain raiser from P. Griffith in the third round, while Basyl Errett tossed Danny Pastro in the opening stanza to get the decision.

ELKS DOWN EAGLES IN SENIOR BALL LOOP

Jack Matson Stages Great Comeback to Win Oak Bay Title

Displays Great Reserve Power to Defeat Alex Watson for Victoria Golf Club Championship on Last Green After Trailing to Thirty-Third Hole

Fighting with all the courage he possessed and without breaking under the terrific strain, Jack Matson, star southpaw, captured the Victoria Golf Club championship for the third time since 1926, Sunday, in the thirty-six-hole final by defeating Alex Watson, former city monarch, after the most gruelling struggle in the history of the tournament, on the last green, one up.

Without a doubt, it was the hardest match of Matson's career, as he was down from the first hole to the thirty-third, as his opponent fought to the limit to capture the laurels. As the match swung into the last nine holes, Matson was four down, but his fighting spirit never left him and he rallied to win five of the last six holes to crown himself champion.

Gaining the upper hand from the start, Watson took the lead and was two up as the pair ended the morning jaunt. Both players did not seem to hit their stride and the brand of golf was not as brilliant as expected. Continuing the afternoon round, Watson uncorked a brilliant display of putting on the out-going route, which he negotiated in 36, to hold a four-up margin. Matson tried valiantly to pick up lost ground on this nine and rounded the turn in 36, only to lose two more holes.

MATSON GOES STRONG

Instead of cracking under the strain, Matson cut loose in the second nine, while Watson faltered and failed to cope with his opponent's uncanny exhibition. It was a comeback seldom seen in local golf circles and will be recorded in Oak Bay's books as one of the features of the 1931 golfing season.

GREAT COMEBACK

The twenty-eighth hole was halved in fours. Matson cut Watson's lead by garnering a four on the next to his opponent's five. The southpaw artist took the thirtieth with a five to Watson's six. Continuing his fine comeback display, Matson won the thirty-first with a three, to be one down and five to go. However, Watson took the next hole to go two up again and looked like a sure winner.

Two down and four to go, Matson never up, came back stronger than ever before in the match to capture the next three holes, to go one up and one to go. By halving the last hole in fours, the title and Harvey Combe Bowl trophy, symbolic of the honors, passed into Matson's possession for a third time in the last five years.

Matson galloped over the last nine holes in 36, to Watson's 41. The champion had a 72 for the final eighteen, while Watson had a 75, despite his brilliant 34 going out.

The cards for the last eighteen follow:

Matson—
Out	445	445	343	—36
In	445	344	444	—36—72
Watson—
Out	534	435	423	—34
In	456	435	554	—41—75

First flight honors went to R. Peachey by his 4 and 3 victory over W. H. M. Haldane in the final. Both played good golf, with the former holding the upper hand throughout.

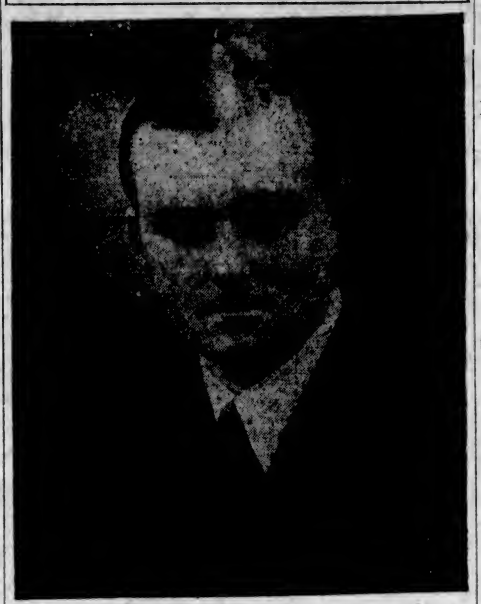
Stages Comeback to Win



JACK Matson, star southpaw, who captured his third Oak Bay Club golf championship, Sunday, by defeating Alex Watson in the thirty-six hole final, one up, after one of the closest finishes in the history of the tournament. Matson was down all the way, but uncorked a sensational comeback on the final nine to squeeze through to victory. Watson played fine golf, but failed to unnerve his opponent.

Piles All Gone
Without Salves or Cutting

Itching, bleeding, protruding piles go quickly and don't come back, if you remove the cause. Bad blood circulation in the hemmorrhoidal veins causes piles by making the affected parts weak, flabby, almost dead. Salves and cutting fail because only an internal medicine can actually correct these conditions. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt discovered a real internal pile remedy. After prescribing it for 1,000 patients with success in 960 cases. He named it HEM-ROID. MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores say one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your pile misery or money back.

Morgan Smashes Out Pair of Homers in Team's 8 to 2 Win

Peppery Third Sacker Accounts for Half of Elks' Runs by Circuit Drives—Winners Hit Ball Hard in Pinches—Fair Crowd Attends

HITTING a pair of homers over the centre field wall, each time with one of his teammates on, Morgan, peppery third baseman, was the big noise in the Elks' 8-2 victory over the Eagles last night at the Royal Athletic Park in a Senior Amateur Baseball League fixture. A fair crowd journeyed to the enclosure to witness a game which was featured by heavy hitting, sparkling plays and fine fielding.

Morgan's circuit drives were responsible for half his team's runs, and at the same time broke the heart of Cornwall, who worked hard on the hillock for the feathered tribe. The first of the round-trip blows came in the initial inning with Minnis occupying first after being walked, while the second came in the fifth stanza with Forbes on second. Both blows cleared the wiring with plenty to spare.

While Cornwall went the distance for the losers, the Elks used two pitchers, Dangerfield started, and after establishing a fine lead, Teddy Colgate was sent in to finish the fray. Taking the game as a whole, the Eagles played better baseball than on previous occasions, and are about due to come through.

MOVE TO AID BERRY MARKET

Growers Endeavor to Have the Foreign Products Pay Higher and Earlier

The Gordon Head Fruit Growers' Association will make representations to the secretary of the Horticultural Council requesting that the Dominion regulation fixing a price on strawberries for customs purposes to prevent dumping into Canada of foreign berries, be set to start on May 20. It will further be requested that the council use its influence to secure the value so set on foreign berries at 12 cents instead of 10 cents a pound as was represented in a letter was to be the figure.

The date of May 20 is to take the place of June 1, which it was represented might be the date upon which the value would be fixed. This latter date was held by the meeting to be too late and would result in the flooding of the Canadian market before the British Columbia berries went onto the market.

The duty is to be 20 per cent on the value set.

New Government Is Formed in Norway

OSLO, May 11 (AP).—M. Kolstad, head of the Agrarian party, president of the Odelsting and director of the agricultural institute near Sarpsborg, has formed a Government to succeed the Mowinckel Cabinet. He takes over the Finance Ministry also. Major Birger Braadland is Foreign Minister.

RECRUIT STAFF AT MENTAL HOME

War Veterans May Be Added as Guards at Wilkinson Road Institution

Following the recent detection of a plot to liberate a body of dangerously insane men at the Wilkinson Road Mental Home, changes are being made in the staff of that institution to prevent any recurrence of the incident. Some new guards are to be appointed, with preference to returned soldiers who had active careers at the front, it was intimated yesterday by Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary.

The management of the institution will remain the same, but additional guards will be added to enable closer supervision of the inmates.

No decision has yet been reached, it is understood, as to whether or not the hospital will be enclosed in a new fence, similar to those in use at other provincial institutions.

PILGRIMS THRONG TO TURIN SHRINE

TNRIN, Italy, May 11 (AP).—A throng of pilgrims, estimated to number 250,000, passed yesterday before the Holy Shroud, in which a tradition says Christ's body was wrapped after the crucifixion.

The shroud is being displayed in the special chapel erected for it many years ago near the cathedral here.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

VANCOUVER, May 11.—K. Uchiyama, new consul for Japan at Seattle, is a passenger on Ms. Heian Maru, which arrived here today to B. W. Greer & Son. The ship sailed at 6 o'clock tonight for Seattle. Mr. Uchiyama is accompanied by his wife and family.

The ship, in command of Captain B. Kaneko, former master Ss. Siberia Maru, had a very fine crossing from Yokohama, and arrived in port at 7:05 o'clock this morning, proceeding at once to discharge silk and general cargo. The silk was off and the silk train of eight carloads, valued at $1,750,000, left here at 10:18 o'clock for New York over Great Northern Railway lines.

Alexander Johnston, Deputy Minister of Marine, of Ottawa, is in the city en route to the capital, after spending some weeks in California in search of health. Mr. Johnston paid a visit to the harbor board offices this morning, and was in conference for some time with President Sam McClay and the other commissioners.

The Vancouver Board of Trade has chartered Ss. Princess Joan for a trip to Powell River on Wednesday, May 20. It is expected that about 200 members will make the journey, leaving Pier D at 9:30 o'clock in the morning, arriving at Powell River at 2 o'clock and leaving there on the return trip at 5 o'clock. This will bring the excursionists back to Vancouver at 9:30 o'clock in the evening. The trip is the first of several such short outings which the board expects to take this summer.

WOMAN'S WHIM COMEDY THEME

"Oh! for a Man," Tale of Much-Coveted Beauty Who Marries a Burglar

With the underlying note of the strange whims that beset womankind at times, "Oh, for a Man!" a Fox Movietone production, opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre.

The cast is headed by Jeanette MacDonald and Reginald Denny with an all-star support.

The story is of a beautiful, successful and much-courted prima donna who rejects suitor after suitor only to fall in love with and finally marry a burglar. They separate, but strange circumstances enter into their lives which result in their reunion and continued love.

"Oh, for a Man!" was directed by Hamilton MacFadden. There is not a dull moment and the song numbers, including the closing aria from "Tristan and Isolde," rendered by Miss MacDonald, are logically interpolated.

COLUMBIA THEATRE The first and most famous of all railroad melodrama is outdone by "Other Men's Women," now showing at the Columbia Theatre. Grant Withers, Mary Astor and Regis Toomey head the cast. William Wellman directed. "Other Men's Women" is the story of an engineer whose wife falls in love with his best pal. Thrills, love interest and comedy blend in making a rare evening's entertainment.

AMUSEMENTS

Capitol—"Oh, for a Man," starring Jeanette MacDonald.

Coliseum—Herbert Marshall in "Murder."

Columbia—"Other Men's Wives," featuring Grant Withers.

Dominion—Buster Keaton in "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath."

Playhouse—"Min and Bill," starring Marie Dressler.

COLISEUM THEATRE Thelma is only seven months old, but already she has begun to earn her living! She is the youngest film artist, and she made her debut in a "carrying on" part in the "talkies." This was in the film "Murder!"—an Alfred Hitchcock production, and British International's third bi-lingual, now showing at the Coliseum Theatre. The picture necessitated the realistic synchronization of a child's sobs. Thelma can sob; and she proved it to the full capacity of her seven-months-old lungs.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE George Hill, who directed "Min and Bill," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's vivid waterfront drama, now playing at the Playhouse Theatre, is famous for "Tell It to the Marines," "The Flying Fleet" and other hits. He and his wife, Frances Marion, scenarist, usually collaborate, as in "The Big House" and "Min and Bill."

DOMINION THEATRE Buster Keaton, of the frozen countenance, cavorts through a comedy of errors in which are too many sweethearts, a jealous husband with a gun, a policeman and a balky auto figure in a riproaring series of trials and tribulations. It all happens in "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy, which will close tonight at the Dominion Theatre.

Bank Deposits Again Increase

OTTAWA, May 11 (CP).—Slight increases in both savings and demand deposits in Canada are shown in the bank statement for March 31, as compared with the month before. An interesting feature is that the savings deposits at the end of March are almost exactly the same as at the corresponding date a year ago. Both call and current loans in Canada are down slightly as compared with the end of February and similar loans outside are higher. A marked increase was shown in Dominion notes.

Sale Confirmed

VANCOUVER, May 11 (CP).—Sale of properties belonging to Vancouver Lumber Company, Limited, Cambie Street, for $1,200,000 to Montreal Trust Company and Calvin Fentress, Chicago, representing first bondholders, was confirmed in Supreme Court by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald.

Confirmation was ordered in spite of objections voiced by counsel for parties whose financial interests ranked after the first mortgage bonds.

SECOND PLACE IN BRITISH MARKET

Soviet Russia Supplies More Wheat to United Kingdom Than Any Other Country

OTTAWA, May 11 (CP).—Canada came second best to Soviet Russia in supplying wheat to the United Kingdom in the first three months of 1931, it was announced by the Department of Trade and Commerce. In the corresponding period of 1930 and 1929, the Argentine Republic led, with Canada a close second. This year the Argentine Republic has been relegated to fourth place.

In a summary of trade conditions in the United Kingdom in the first quarter of the year, Harrison Watson, Canadian Trade Commissioner in London, reports that of total imports of wheat amounting to over 41,000 bushels, the Soviet Russia supplied 10,800,000; Canada, 10,400,000; Australia, 8,000,000, and the Argentine Republic, 7,587,000.

ANSWER TO SUNDAY'S PUZZLE

Bucket Shops Are Reviving

For considerably more than a century it has been traditional for presidents of the New York Stock Exchange to make the sort of innocuous speeches to chambers of commerce that become pontifical and elderly gentlemen. It was not until last week that the financial nation entire had to sit up with a start at a really red-hot shot from the mouth of a stock exchange head. Richard Whitney, addressing the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce on "Business Honesty," made it clear that the general impression that security frauds have of late become negligible is "absolutely false." They are as rampant as at any time in the past. "Buckte shops are springing up again," he said, "and will flourish just as soon as the public becomes interested in buying securities."

LAYING NEW RAILS

REVELSTOKE—The offices here of the Revelstoke division, Canadian Pacific Railway, lately assigned 100 men to the work of laying new steel east of here. It is understood that sixty more will be put to work at once, followed by more, until between 350 and 400 men are employed. It will, however, be useless for men from outside points to flock to Revelstoke in the hope of obtaining employment in connection with this work. The railway company here has accumulated a list of workless men, who have applied, for months past, and there are more than enough men available on the list at the present time to take care of all the labor required.

The Principal Causes of SLEEPLESSNESS

are nervous strain and digestive unrest

BOTH of these can be overcome by the simple act of taking a cup of hot Ovaltine each night before retiring.

The great value of Ovaltine is due to the fact that it offers super-nourishment in very easily digested form. Ovaltine not only quiets the nerves and allays digestive unrest—bringing sleep naturally—but also, while you sleep, it replenishes your lost energy and vitality.

Ovaltine is a rich concentration of ripe barley malt, rich creamy milk, and fresh eggs. Every nutritive element your body needs to maintain mental and physical fitness is combined in this delicious and perfect combination of Nature's best restorative foods. Drink it daily instead of tea or coffee. Be sure and make it your "goodnight" beverage to ensure sound restful sleep.

WARNING
No malt or cocoa drink is in any sense a substitute for Ovaltine. The process by which Ovaltine is made is the result of years of scientific research. Refuse so called "just as good" preparations.

AVIATION IS COMMERCIAL

Figures From U.S. Operations Show Rapid Advance in This Line

ACCIDENTS BECOME RARE IN FLYING

Commercial aviation is not just around the corner but is already here and cities are engaging in airport building plans to care for this communication, Harold Crary, manager of advertising for the Boeing Airplane Company, told the general membership meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce Saturday. The meeting was under auspices of the tourist trade group.

Canada is making rapid strides in commercial aviation, said Mr. Crary, who stressed the growth of commercial aviation in the United States by citing these facts:

Approximately 10,500 commercial airplanes are being operated in the United States and more than 1,200 people pay fares and travel on regular air liners every day. Their average flight is 280 miles. Mail planes carry 1,000,000 letters every twenty-four hours, serving 120 cities which are trade centres for areas having 70,000,000 population. In addition to these transport lines there are 600 aerial operators in the United States doing air taxi, sightseeing and special delivery, advertising, mapping, surveying and other aerial commercial activities. Air express is being carried over 15,000 miles of airways making stops at more than 100 important airports throughout the country.

MAKES STRIDES

Mr. Crary pointed out the dependability of air transport operations. Transport companies operating on regular schedule over 102 established routes in the United States, completed ninety-three per cent of their scheduled milage and one third of it was flown at night. The Boeing System, operating between Seattle and San Diego and California and Chicago, has flown 15,000,000 miles and 8,000,000 miles has been at night with mail and passengers. There are now 500,000 take offs and landings for each airplane accident, however trivial, and during the last half of 1930 planes flew 25,000,000 passenger miles for each fatality. Since 1926 passengers on American lines have increased from 6,000 to 400,000.

The accidents today were largely due to stunt flying and not in the line of commercial flying.

Mr. Crary told of what was being done by the Government of the United States to ensure safety. There were emergency landing places provided in the mountains and the routes were lighted there so that the dnagers were minimized. The only obstacle which has not yet been overcome was that of fog. It was necessary to wait for the fog to lift.

"These facts demonstrate why many cities are providing proper terminals for airplanes," said Mr. Crary. "It is estimated that private and municipal investments for acquisition, development and improvements of airports will exceed $15,000,000 in the United States this year. Four years ago there were 482 listed airports. Now there are 1,500. Besides these airports there are 650 Federal and miscellaneously owned landing fields."

NOT COMPETITIVE

The airplane should not be looked upon solely as a competitor of surface transportation, said the speaker, who pointed out that, because of the extra speed of the airplane a substantial number of people make trips and enjoy vacations they would not make because of time if the airplane was not in service.

"An example of this is the party of California fisherman who left Los Angles shortly before midnight in a Boeing System plane and were fishing near Seattle the following noon. The airplane will create a new type of traveler who is willing to pay something extra for a trip four times as fast as he has been accustomed to," said Crary.

Airports should be improved after experts, men who know flying, plane operation and engineering, have been called in and investments made on the basis of these practical studies. Some cities have not received full value in their airport expenditures because of failure to adopt this rule of good business, he said.

Empress of Canada Making Fine Time From Island Port

May Equal Empress of Japan's Record Run From Victoria to Honolulu—Due Now at William Head Early Tomorrow Morning

Instead of arriving here on Thursday morning, according to schedule, the Canadian Pacific Railway transpacific flyer Ss. Empress of Canada, Commander A. J. Halley, R.N.R., is now expected at William Head quarantine station Wednesday morning at an early hour and should be up at the dock at 10 o'clock. The liner is speeding from Honolulu at a pace which promises to set another record for the white Empresses of the Pacific.

Already a day ahead of schedule, Captain Halley is pushing his ship and is making close to twenty-two knots. If, by chance, the ship arrives at William Head by daybreak tomorrow, as wireless reports indicate is likely, the Canada will approach the mark set by the 25,000-ton Empress of Japan of four days, fifteen hours and fifty-two minutes for the 2,329-mile voyage from Victoria to Honolulu.

The Empress of Canada, making the first of a series of five eastbound calls by Canadian Pacific liners during May, June and July, sailed from the Hawaiian port Friday, after adding 100 saloon passengers to a total of 545 picked up in the Philippines, China and Japan. On her first voyage from Yokohama to Honolulu, the Empress of Canada already has set a new mark, and is certain to set a fast pace between Honolulu and Victoria, two records which the Empress of Japan will probably reduce some on her return trip next month.

Sold out completely, the Ss. H. F. Alexander will have no accommodation left over when she clears from Victoria tonight for Californian ports, inaugurating the new service of the Pacific Steamship Company from this port to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The H. F. Alexander will arrive alongside Rithet Piers from Seattle at 9 o'clock, and after embarking local passengers will sail south two hours later.

From the United Kingdom, the Furness motor liner Pacific Enterprise docked at Rithet Piers at 11 o'clock Sunday night, being held up off the coast by stormy weather. Captain W. H. Newman reported a fine passage until the Oregon coast was reached, as did Captain G. J. Barendfe, of the Holland-America freighter Kinderdyk, which was close behind the Pacific Enterprise, reaching William Head at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, coming up to Rithet Piers at 7 o'clock. Both ships discharged cargo before proceeding to Vancouver at noon. The Pacific Enterprise brought six passengers for Victoria.

Bound for Port Alice and way ports on the west coast of Vancouver Island, the B.C. Coast Service Ss. Princess Norah left the Belleville Street docks on her first trip of the Spring and Summer season at 11 o'clock last night. She will make three trips a month until July, when she and the Ss. Princess Maquinna will give a twice-weekly service to points on the West Coast.

Due within the next forty-eight hours, the Canadian National freighter Ss. Canadian Planter is on her way here from the east coast with 100 tons of general cargo for local discharge. She is now on the coast. Another freighter due this week is the Texada, of the Kingsley Navigation Company's fleet, King Brothers, local agents, announced lately. The Texada left San Francisco Sunday, and should dock here some time tomorrow. Both the Canadian Planter and the Texada will berth at Odgen Point Piers.

LIVES SAVED BY STEAMER'S CREW

Lady Cynthia Happened Along in Good Time to Effect Rescue

VANCOUVER, May 11 (CP).—Captain J. Boden, master of the Union Steamship Company Ss. Lady Cynthia, and his crew did a bit of life-saving Sunday off Point Atkinson, where a man and woman were struggling in the cold waves. Passengers on the vessel drew the attention of the captain to the two and he promptly turned the ship to the rescue.

A brother and sister residing on Vancouver Island, were proceeding home in the brother's launch, when the latter fell overboard while her brother was in the engine-room. He threw his engine into neutral, rushed to the dinghy to go to his sister's aid. The dinghy was upset. The woman managed to keep afloat with the aid of a drifting log while her brother struggled to push the overturned dinghy to her.

Captain Boden crew alongside and lifted the man and woman from the water. They were wrapped in hot blankets, given warming drinks and at their request were put back on their launch to continue their interrupted journey. The Lady Cynthia then proceeded to Bowen Island and Howe Sound points. Several gasboats also rushed to the rescue but arrived too late to do anything but salvage the abandoned launch.

Stories Told About Passing of Captain Voss Were Rumors

Local Yachtsman and Old Acquaintance of Man Who Sailed Tillicum Around World in Possession of Facts Concerning Famous Sailor

It was undoubtedly quite fitting that a certain measure of romance should have been woven about the passing of Captain J. C. Voss, who, by sailing the Indian dugout Tillicum across the several oceans of the world, earned for himself a place among the sea's most adventurous navigators. Several tales were told of more or less dramatic finales to the old sea rover's wanderings. But, alas, they were not true; and now it is almost too bad to make public the facts; for any of these stories would serve to distinguish his going, and if he could have made a choice, some such way out would have been his very own. But it was not to be. The circumstances of his last moments have just come to light; Captain Voss died at Tracy, California, and was buried in the cemetery of that town far from the sound of the sea which he had known and loved so well.

Among the stories which were current concerning Voss' death was one which stood apart from all the rest and somehow set a sort of glamour about the skipper's last days. At any rate, it was pretty enough, and would undoubtedly be appreciated by the old man himself could he have heard of it. It was stated that Voss was shanghaied by agents of the German Navy in Japan during the early days of the Great War, who managed to get him aboard a German warship, where he was held captive. Voss' knowledge of British Columbia waters was given as the reason for this, and he was to be used as a pilot when the ships of the German Navy arrived off the entrance to the Strait of Juan de Fuca. Following this story to a fitting finale, Voss had been kept aboard the naval ship and went down with the vessel in the sea battle off the Falkland Islands.

Being instrumental with George I. Warren, of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, in bringing the remains of Voss' old canoe to Victoria last year, Harry T. Barnes, local yachtsman and acquaintance of the old skipper, in response to numerous requests from yachtsmen all over the country as to how and where Voss died, busied himself in the matter, and after several months of corresponding, through the recent owners of the Tillicum, was advised to write to the coroner of a California county.

Acting on the suggestion, Mr. Barnes was put in touch with the doctor who attended Captain Voss in his last illness, who furnished the following information:

"Captain Voss was a familiar character in Tracy during the four and a half years he lived here. He was very popular, enjoying a wide acquaintance. During this time he made a precarious living, driving a jitney. He died from an old heart condition which induced pneumonia. This occurred at the ranch of W. H. Johnson, about four miles from Tracy. He was found dead on the morning of February 2, 1922, at the above ranch. He was related in some way to Mr. Johnson. He was buried in the Tracy cemetery."

Tourist Trade Group Backs Up Messages to Ottawa for Privileges

D. B. PLUNKETT GETS NO ENCOURAGEMENT

Following the address by Harold Crary as to the development which was taking place in the United States in the matter of navigation of the air the tourist trade group yesterday sponsored a series of messages to the Prime Minister of Canada, the Minister of Marine and the Minister of National Defence, urging the granting of rights applied for to provide for an airport in the harbor.

A message was read from D. B. Plunkett, M.P. under date of May 4. The local member said that he had made the representations to the various members of the Government which he had been asked to do by the Chamber of Commerce. He, however, had been given no encouragment looking to the granting of the rights applied for.

The Minister of Marine, in fact, had gone so far as to say that he feared the granting of the request would result in creating a menace to the use of the harbor. Mr. Plunkett said that he had seen the general assistant of one of the railway companies and had received the information from him that the railway had no further information that would warrant a change in its recommendation against the granting of the privileges applied for.

ADVISED HALT

The member for Victoria offered the advice that in view of the opinions held, it would be advisable not to press further in the matter for the present.

Mr. Crary, who spoke relative to the development of flying in the United States and Canada in a general way, refused to express any opinion with regard to the local situation. He said that he was not conversant with the situation and would not attempt to say anything in the way of advising them.

R. H. B. Ker, who moved the resolution favoring the sending of further messages to Ottawa, said that the question was really one of taking the opinion of Dominion experts, which was that there was nothing that would make the harbor unsafe in the granting of what was applied for, or deprive the city of the chance of getting its rights.

C. P. Hill suggested that there was danger in the granting of an airport as asked for.

D. Leeming was of the opinion that in Oakland where the situation was far more restricted than here, the seaplanes were allowed to use the harbor. He was of the opinion that Victoria was not getting a square deal. It should be taken for granted that those operating planes were intelligent men and were not courting trouble.

E. Eve backed up the motion. S. Pickles said that the first service into Victoria was in 1919. There had been only one accident here and that was not due to anything pertaining to the port. From a plane there was good visibility so that danger could be avoided in all directions.

N. Carter was of the opinion that Victoria was a suitable place for an airport. The expert from Ottawa had so regarded it.

Carl Pendray, while not posing as an expert, said that the local aviators who examined the local situation had come to the conclusion that the harbor was the only location possible.

What Today Means

"TAURUS"

If May 12 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m., from 2:15 p.m. to 4:20 p.m. and from 8:45 p.m. to 10 p.m. The danger hours are from noon to 1:45 p.m. and from 6:10 p.m. to 8:25 p.m.

May 12, according to the astrological signs, will be marked by steady progress and financial betterment. Nothing of a spectacular character will happen, but advancement will be made along the lines of endeavor to which you usually devote your efforts.

A child born on this May 12 will, as a result of precociousness, promise much and generate great hopes. As maturity approaches, the flame will disappear and only a flicker will remain. It will develop along mediocre lines, but its disposition will be affectionate.

Born on May 12, you have a romantic disposition, and are always investing "common-places" with a glitter that they do not possess. An incident becomes an adventure, while a trifle becomes a thing of importance. In this way, you magnify, not only pleasures, but troubles. It would be better for you to be able to measure action and thought at a just value, in order to avoid excesses of optimism or the despair of pessimism. Normalcy is always preferable to exaggeration.

You lack a sense of humor, and take yourself altogether too seriously. It is well to form and to hold strong convictions. There is not need, however, to air them in public, unless the occasion is propitious. Your ideas may mean much to you as an individual, but they at times, bore others.

You, when you feel like it, are a quick and hard worker. You are not, however, a steady one. Your nature is an affectionate one, and you are very appreciative of, and grateful for, kindness. There is no malice in your "make up"; you over-rate the virtues of your friends and underestimate their weaknesses. You, by your temperament, are more fitted to work in association with others, than "go it on your own."

CATHOLIC LADIES' TEA

The annual membership tea of the Victoria Subdivision, Catholic Women's League, will be held in the K. of C. Hall on this afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. Rt. Rev. Bishop Murray will speak at 4 o'clock on the work of the league, and members of the other subdivisions have been invited to attend in order to hear his address.

New York Stocks Sway To and Fro In Narrow Range

NEW YORK, May 11 (AP).—Stocks dragged up and down unenthusiastically today.

Professional traders accounted for a large part of the 1,700,000-share turnover, giving the market a dip in the morning and again in the last hour. Net changes were narrow and irregular.

Early selling of stocks was directed against two recent weak spots, Johns-Manville and J. I. Case, and again United Carbide and Fox Film. The first two, after touching new lows, made more than full recovery, but the latter pair remained soft.

U.S. Steel dipped to 110 1-8, within a fraction of last week's low, but then rebounded to 113 1-2. It finished a point from the top, up 3-4 net. Professionals switched to General Electric in the last hour and succeeded in breaking that issue 2 3-8, although the loss was reduced to less than 2 points in late covering. American Can also sagged in the final dealings.

There were fractional net gains in Radio, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Consolidated Gas, Sears-Roebuck and others. Western Union made a new low before rallying with the other utilities.

Rails were highly mixed, Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Lackawanna reaching new minimums. Pennsylvania was heavy. Southern Pacific and Atchison firmed. Gillette was strong and Auburn held 14 points of an extreme rise of 17. Union Carbide lost more than two. Foreign currencies moved narrowly. The Spanish peseta broke badly, reflecting disturbances in Madrid. The French franc rallied slightly and there was substantial recovery in the Brazilian milreis.

Bonds made further gains, but the advance was not so regular as last week and trading was less active. The upward movement was most marked among highly rated railroad and public utility obligations.

WHEAT MARKET CLOSES LEVEL

Fractional Declines Later Recovered—Trade Local —No Export Buying

WINNIPEG, May 11 (CP).—Fractional declines were removed on the wheat market today and final quotations were unchanged from Saturday's close. No export buying occurred and trading was local in character.

May wheat closed at 62 1-8 cents per bushel; July, 63 1-8, and October, 64 1-2 to 64 5-8. Cash wheat and coarse grain figures were also unaltered in an extremely dull market.

Sandford Evans reports that the rains recorded in the past few days were of measurable benefit in Southern and Northern Alberta, Northern Saskatchewan and a few parts of Southwestern Saskatchewan. The greater part of Southern and Central Saskatchewan and Central Alberta did not receive adequate rains.

Pioneer Climbs 36 Points More; Home Sells at 60

VANCOUVER, May 11 (CP).—Persistent demand by Eastern interests for Pioneer Gold on the Vancouver Stock Exchange today lifted the stock to a new peak of 2.14, a net increase of 36c. Aside from the accumulation in this issue, the market was sluggish, with prices in all groups inclined to ease moderately. However, absence of board selling held prices within restricted limits.

As is customary when a stock makes a sensational forward movement, particularly in these days of almost stagnant trading, the Street seethed with rumors. The advance in Pioneer was no exception. The rumor gaining the most credance was to the effect that Eastern interests are seeking 500,000 shares in the company at between $2 and $2.50, and that it is the purpose of this group to endeavor to have the stock listed on the New York Curb Market. Discovery of large ore reserves was also rumored.

In a movement of 5,100 shares, Pioneer reached a new high at 2.15. The stock opened strong at 2.12 and advanced steadily during the first hour to 2.15. Around midsession profit taking predominated. The price fell sharply to 2.00, but recovered before the noon interval to 2.10. On resumption of trading in the final hour the stock opened firm at 2.10 and slowly rose to the day's high to close at 2.14 bid, up 36c net.

The remainder of the precious metal group, in neglected trading, moved listlessly. Big Missouri, the only issue in this division to close with a price change, dropped 1 3-4c to 32c bid. Cotton Belt sagged 2c to 10; bid.

Modest selling in Mercury and Eastcrest featured the oils group. Mercury broke fractionally to 17 1-2c, while Eastcrest tumbled 2c to 39c. A.P. Consolidated dropped 1c to 18c bid. Home sold at 60c, and closed unchanged at that quotation.

TORONTO MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, May 11 (CP).—A few strong individuals saved the mining list from complete dullness today, the tone for the majority of stocks remaining listless, with price changes irregular and confined.

Wright-Hargraves met good demand and closed up 15 cents for the day at $3.12. Pioneer of British Columbia sold at $2.10, an advance of 50 and Sylvate was up 7 to 92. Small recessions appeared in Hollinger, Teck-Hughes, Mining Corporation, and Macausa and pennies showed only fractional changes.

Noranda displayed early strength but reacted to close steady. Nickel and Hudson's Bay were quiet. Sudbury Basis dropped another 4 to 52, while other Lindseys were holding.

Homestead was active but unchanged in the oil section. Acme Gas firmed a fraction and rights were fairly active at 7-8 this afternoon. East Crest lost five to 41.

Shares of Central Gold Mines were traded at 20, replacing the stock of Central Patricia Mines.

BUSINESS ON UPWARD ROAD

Business Index for Canada Advances Steadily Since December

COMPARISON IS MADE WITH PRECEDING YEAR

Greenshield & Company's Weekly Review says:

Without glossing over the disappointingly low volume of current business, it may be repeated once more that there has been decided encouragement in trends that have developed since the end of 1930. One of the best barometers of the state of business in Canada is the Dominion Bureau of Statistics index number of the physical volume of production, an index which covers forestry, mining, construction and manufacturing. From the low point of 137.7 in this depression, touched in December last, this index successively rose to 141.7 in January, 145.6 in February and 153.1 in March. If comparison is made between the first three months of this year and the first three months of 1930, the relative betterment that occurred in the first quarter of this year becomes more clearly apparent. Whereas in comparison with the corresponding month of 1930 the index was down 25 per cent in January, it was down only 11 per cent in February and only 8 per cent in March. Definite indications of recession through the first quarter of last year contrast with definite indications of expansion in the first quarter of the current year. We believe that a continuance of this favorable trend will be apparent in business results for April.

So far from this being a time for holders of Canadian stocks to become discouraged, our conviction is that the worst of the depression is behind us, that we are gradually but very definitely moving forward into a period of better business and that substantial improvement will be recorded by Autumn. That speculative sentiment should be going through a new phase of unsettlement at this time is providing investors with a somewhat unexpected opportunity of acquiring sound equities on favorable terms.

Strong Demand for High Grade Issues Is Shown in Bond Market

April bond financing was in excess of the volume for March, the total being $56,927,742, as compared with $45,020,611 in March, according to statistics compiled by Wood, Gundy & Company. Government and municipal financing continued to increase, while volume of corporation issues declined.

The following table shows a comparison of the three groups for the first four months of 1931:

1931	Govt. and Govt. Guaranteed	Municipal	Corporation	Total
January	$105,444,000	$ 2,634,404	$ 1,255,000	$109,333,404
February	7,200,000	12,369,566	18,500,000	38,069,566
March	9,457,000	18,780,611	16,783,000	45,020,611
April	26,203,305	28,198,537	2,526,000	56,927,742

The volume of financing for the first four months of 1931 is large in comparison with that of the similiar period in preceding years, and is due to the Government-guaranteed financing by the Canadian National Railways. The market, however, remains firm, due to the strong demand for high-grade securities.

A comparison of the distribution for the years 1921 to 1931, inclusive, is as follows, short-term financing of less than one year not being included.

TORONTO GENERAL STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, May 11 (CP).—No changes of consequence occurred on Toronto Stock Exchange during today's session. The market opened listlessly, the list narrow and turnover extremely light. The market complexion during the afternoon was the same as that of the morning.

Price changes were irregular and amounted to fractions only. Nickel, Bell Telephone, Page-Hersey Tubes lost from 1-4 to 1-2 point each. Noranda, up 1-2 point at midday, closed unchanged to slightly lower. Canadian Pacific Railway touched 30, and closed with 1-4 point gain at 29 3-4. Brazilian was firmer fractionally above 17. Ford sold at 20 1-4 and 20 1-2 in the afternoon, up the fraction. Steel of Canada had a small net gain and De Forest rose to 18 1-4, following publication of a favorable annual report. Service Stations preferred touched 70, its old low. Liquor stocks closed unchanged and the oils, in noticeably light trading, left off unchanged or with only minimum fractional swings one way or the other.

Two Thousand Spectators Witness Annual Sports of Indians on Somenos Field

DUNCAN, May 11.—About two thousand people, of whom approximately two-thirds were Indians, assembled at the Somenos Reserve sports grounds here yesterday for the annual Corpus Christi sports meet. This was the first occasion in which these sports were held at Duncan, the previous meets all having been at Quamichan, but the result seems to have justified the change.

The sports programme was a good one and the competition spirited. An exhibition of the old Indian gambling game of La Hallum, known generally to whites as the stick game, attracted a great deal of attention. In this game two pairs of bone discs are used, one disc in each pair being banded with black, while the other is white, representing, respectively, a man and a woman. The game goes forward to a constant song accompaniment, and the contestants try to discover in which hand their opponent has concealed the "woman" disc.

A football game between Nanaimo and Cowichan Indians resulted in a win for Nanaimo by a score of 4-2.

WINNERS OF EVENTS

The results of the sports events were:

Boys' race, 50 yards, 8 years and under—1, George Good; 2, Bonny Campbell; 3, Gerald Thorne.

Girls' race, 50 yards, 10 years and under—1, Laurel Colk; 2, Ivy Thorne; 3, Elsie Campbell.

Fat man's race—1, Moses; 2, Alec George.

Old man's race—1, F. Thorne; 2, Moses; 3, Louis Good.

Boys' race, 100 yards, 16 years and under—1, Alfred James; 2, Edwin Johns; 3, George Stevens.

440 yards race—1, Dominic Joe; 2, Frank Goldie; 3, Joe Campbell.

Obituary

CUMBERLAND, May 11.—Edward John Morris died in the Cumberland General Hospital on Wednesday, after a lengthy illness, at the age of forty-five years. He had been a resident of Cumberland for the past eight years and was a prominent member of the Cumberland Rod and Gun Club.

A native of Resolven, Glamorganshire, South Wales, he served with the Imperial forces in France, joining the 9th Welsh Regiment. He was gassed twice and finally invalided out of the army. Following the war, he made a trip to Australia, then back to South Wales, where he stayed for a short time before coming to Canada about eight years ago.

The funeral took place on Friday afternoon from the undertaking parlors of T. E. Banks, interment taking place in the Cumberland cemetery, with Rev. J. R. Hewitt officiating. He was followed to his last resting place by a large number of the members of the Cumberland Rod and Gun Club, the Cumberland branch of the Canadian Legion, the Cumberland Society and a host of sympathetic friends. Pallbearers were W. Howells, S. Gough, J. L. Brown, Fraser Watson, W. Braes and W. Williams. Harry Murdoch, of Cumberland, sounded the "Last Post" at the graveside.

Toronto Buyers Take Fifty Acres On Mill Bay Front

Dog Believed to Have Saved Boy

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, May 11.—During the heavy windstorm here last week, a large tree was blown down and fell across the veranda on to the house of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Griffin, smashing the veranda and wrecking the house. Mrs. Griffin rushed out to find her two-year-old boy, who had been romping on the veranda with their dog. She found the dog pulling the boy from under the branches of the tree at one side of the smashed veranda. It is thought that the dog pushed the boy off the veranda when the tree cracked and began to fall.

Health Centre for Nanaimo District May Be Organized

NANAIMO, May 11.—School trustees between Ladysmith and Hillers, inclusive, with Mayor Hall presiding, and representatives from Ladysmith and Nanaimo City Council in attendance, met in the Odd Fellows' Hall Friday evening to discuss the formation of a health centre for the district represented. Mayor Hall explained to the meeting that in the event of one being formed, the Provincial Government would bear 50 per cent of the cost of the necessary nurses, and of a full-time physician, whose duty it would be to inspect schools and to be permanent health officer of the districts included. The meeting decided to get complete figures as to the cost of the new system, and what it is costing the various districts under the present system. Nanaimo and Ladysmith City Councils will be asked to study the proposed centre with a view to endorsing same. Dr. Young, Provincial Health Officer, was present.

Cougar Eating Lamb Awakens Sleeping Man

SHIRLEY, May 11.—Having spent the night on guard over his sheep, Mr. Blyth, a local farmer, dozed off to sleep toward dawn and, on waking up, saw a cougar a few feet in front of him, eating a lamb. Mr. Blyth had his shotgun with him and shattered the cougar's head with a close shot.

These animals seem to have become more daring of late and a number of sheep have been killed.

Nanaimo Lawn Bowling

NANAIMO, May 11.—Nanaimo Lawn Bowling Club opened its season's activities Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the first bowl being thrown, in the absence of John Hunt, by Thomas Cunningham, who afterwards declared the green officially opened. The annual opening rink game of the season was then played between four rinks, led by the president and vice-president, the latter's side emerging victorious by two points, 48-46. Auction Bidding

	1st Rd.	2nd Rd.	3rd Rd.
South	1 ♠	4 ♦	Pass
West	2 ♥	Pass	Pass
North	3 ♠	4 ♠
East	3 ♥	Pass

There is a school which proclaims that where there is a choice of bids between suits, the initial bid should be made in the long suit. This procedure will very often lead to the failure of bidding a slam at contract or to the failure to arrive at the best bid between hands at auction.

The above deal is one of those that might well be described as a freak and unless we used the system of forcing original bids of two, a slam contract would hardly be arrived at. Furthermore, if South, the dealer, should bid his long suit first the result would naturally be less remunerative either at contract or auction than would be the case should he bid the ranking but shorted Spade suit first.

SALIENT POINTS OF THE BIDDING

Contract—South with five quick tricks in hand opens the bidding with two Spades of which he holds four headed by the Ace, King, Queen, rather than with two Diamonds in which suit he holds five headed by the Ace. West, with a freak hand, containing six Hearts to the King, Queen and six Clubs to the King-Queen, bids three Hearts. North, with exceptional support for the Spades, does not have to give an immediate assist, for he knows that his partner is going to make a further bid. Accordingly he bids four Diamonds in order to show the length of that suit. East passes, and South, who might readily have bid Diamonds instead of Spades originally, bids five Diamonds. West passes, and North, knowing that there is a fit in Diamonds between the two hands bids six Spades, concluding the bidding.

Auction—South opens the bidding with one Spade. West bids two Hearts, North two Spades and East three Hearts. East's bid is not technically correct from an offensive standpoint, but he realizes that the situation is rather hopeless and is willing to take a loss. South bids four Diamonds, showing his second suit. West passes and North bids four Spades, concluding the bidding.

THE PLAY

There is practically nothing to the play of the hand except the guess as to the distribution of the Diamond suit. The bidding being such as it is, the chances are slightly in favor of West being void of the suit, and although North and South between them hold eleven of the cards, the chances are slightly in favor of the finesse against East when he follows suit to the first lead of Diamonds.

TOONERVILLE FOLKS

A Londoner went to spend his Summer holidays at a country house, the landlady of which professed to give bed and board for twenty-five shillings a week. "I assure you," said he, when describing his visit to friends, "I was there a week before I discovered which was the bed and which was the board!"

TWO JAIL BREAKERS AGAIN IN CUSTODY

BRANDON, May 11 (CP).—After making a break from the Moosomin, Sask., jail late Thursday afternoon, Stephen Doyle Keelan, seventeen, and William Gastmeir, eighteen, are again in custody at Brandon, awaiting an R.C.M.P. escort who will return them to Moosomin to stand trial for escaping from lawful custody, with possibly other charges of theft of automobiles.

Keelan was taken from a C.P.R. main line freight east of here and returned to the city to await an escort to Saskatchewan.

Gastmeir was arrested by Manitoba Provincial Police shortly after the capture of Keelan, and is now lodged in the provincial police station here.

The Secret of MARGARET YORKE

By Kathleen Norris

CHAPTER XXVIII

Well, it was over. The play had ended, on the balmy Spring afternoon that found Margaret at "Uplands," peacefully established on the porch, mistress already, except in name, of everything she loved, and with her heart brimming with a deep happiness and security that embraced all the years to come.

There was a familiar whirring down toward the lower gate: Stan's car. Margaret's heart began to hammer, and her mouth tasted salty. It should be so easy to tell him! Yet she was trembling in every fibre of her being.

She saw him jump out of the car, as she had seen him a thousand times before. He came up to the porch.

"Eminently successful!" he said, of the blue and tan linen.

Margaret found herself utterly unable to rise; her spine was cold, and her throat suddenly felt thick and hot.

"Stan—" she stammered. She put the crumpled telegram into his hands. "Stan—" she faltered, as, without looking at it, he took it, his concerned gaze continuing to rest upon her face. "He's dead!" she said, weakly.

Stan moved his eyes indifferently to the telegram, shrugged.

"What's the matter? Who is it?" he asked solicitously.

"He's dead, I tell you!" Margaret said. "He—read it. He's dead."

Stanley snatched the telegram again, drank in its contents with one glance, flung it from him, and caught her in his arms.

"Who is?" he cried, with a sort of shout. "My God, you don't mean your husband? Tell me—tell me!"

But Margaret could tell him nothing, for she was crying bitterly in his arms. Stanley's own eyes moistened.

"Here, my darling girl! You mustn't cry now. Why, it's all over, dear! It makes you feel badly and no wonder. But when you're over this first shock—my sweetheart, you mustn't cry. Think of what our lives are going to be now."

Her face was still averted, but her sobs were quieter. Margaret rested, against him, gradually restored to self-control.

They started and turned, but Stanley did not release her when Shirley came suddenly out to the porch.

"I heard your car—Well!" she said, her astonished eyes not missing the traces of Margaret's tears, the agitated faces of both Stan and Margaret.

"Well," Stanley echoed joyously. "Congratulate us, Shirley. There's no use disguising anything—I'm too happy! We're to be married, Shirley, Margaret and I—it's all arranged, it's settled. You're the first to know!"

"Oh, on the contrary, everyone knows!" Shirley said, after a very perceptible pause. "I congratulate you, I'm sure. And you, Miss Yorke. We've all been wondering exactly why you chose to keep us in the dark".

"There was a reason, Mrs. Theobald. I was not free."

"I see!" Shirley said, trembling, although she smiled. The game was lost now, and Shirley had no thought but to withdraw as quickly as possible. But suddenly it seemed to her that in losing Stan she let go of everything she needed. "I wonder if Rudolph would drive me to Menlo Park," she said, not very steadily. "I've got a tea, and a dinner, and a thousand things to do. I'm leaving on Tuesday, you know. I have to get back to my poor sick boy."

"Surely Rudolph could," Stanley said, cheerfully obliging.

"Just—just a minute," Margaret said, turning paler, and putting out an impulsive hand to detain Shirley. She glanced at the telegram, lying on the floor; she sent an entreating look toward Stan. "You are too late, Mrs. Theobald," she said. "Cuyler Theobald died this morning, in the Roosevelt Hospital, at quarter-past 8 o'clock."

"I don't believe it!" Shirley said flatly.

"It's true," Margaret said, faintly. "Then you're—" Stan whispered, staring at her. "My God!"

"Yes," she answered, her eyes on his, "I'm Peggy Irwin, of course. I'm his wife—his first wife. We were married six years ago."

"You'll have to prove it," Shirley stammered.

"I can prove it."

"Well, I don't believe it!" Shirley repeated, narrowing her eyes, scowling, staring into space. "You mean that you happened to get a job with Cuyler's aunt, and happened not to be recognized?" she asked scathingly.

"It wasn't quite accident," Margaret admitted.

"I never heard anything so ridiculous!" Shirley persisted.

"Your husband was Cuyler Theobald?" Stan demanded.

Margaret nodded, swallowing.

"Then all this time," Stanley said, stupefied, finding words with difficulty, "all this time—you—you—And you never told me!"

"I never told anyone, Stan. I had promised—I had sworn, never to tell!"

"Promised him?"

"Cuyler?" How readily she said the name. "No; Trowbridge, the old lawyer," she said.

"Trowbridge! But why?"

"Because he knew of Jim, Stan, and when I thought I was dying, when the doctor had told me that I was sinking fast—then I sent for Trowbridge," Margaret said.

"You knew him?"

"Knew him? Oh, yes, he was the Theobald's attorney. He was like a sort of guardian to me. From the very beginning he was my friend; he used to reason with Cuyler, try to influence him. And I went to see him a few weeks after our separation. He was in the hospital the afternoon that Jim was born. He told me then that Mrs. Cutting was looking for a baby to adopt, but I wouldn't let Jim go—then. And later, when I was so ill, when I did give up the baby, I swore that it should be a secret if I died or if I lived. I had to keep it so!

"Living, Stan," Margaret said, in an eager rush of words. "I would always have cared for my own baby, somehow. I didn't want money for him! But dying, I thought of leaving him, so tiny, so helpless, and without a friend or a penny. And then I remembered that Mrs. Cutting was his great-aunt, and that some of the family money was rightly his—poor baby, it seemed unfair both ways, to give him his name, or to keep silent! Finally, talking to Trowbridge, I told him that nobody in the world knew who he really was, and I gave him the name of Jim Field, and they took him away to be adopted! Trowbridge sat beside my bed and swore that he would never betray the baby while Cuyler lived, and I swore that I would never betray him!"

Shirley had been looking in utter astonishment from one face to another, her face an angry red, and her eyes flashing.

"Stan, you don't believe all this!" she stuttered, at last. "I never heard of anything so ridiculous! Why—why, how do you know all this is true? You don't know anything—who is Jim? I never heard of him! And Cuyler—is it probable that he wouldn't tell me that his aunt's companion—"

"I don't think you understand, Shirley," Stanley said, in his gentlest tone. "I've been somewhat in Margaret's confidence, you see, Mrs. Cutting never suspected anything, and I never knew until this instant that Margaret's husband was Cuyler Theobald—"

"We were married on the eleventh of March, four years ago—more than four years ago, Cuyler Theobald and I," Shirley asserted hotly.

"His marriage to Margaret came first, Shirley," Stanley interrupted her, mildly. "His little boy was born before you ever met him—"

"He went to Paris," Margaret explained, "and got a divorce there. But his divorce, granted by the French courts, is not valid in California."

"What do you mean?" Shirley said, turning white.

"I mean that I refused ever to give Cuyler Theobald a divorce," Margaret asserted. "Trowbridge warned him his French marriage would never be recognized in America until he had an American divorce, too, but Cuyler didn't care! He knew, I dare say, that I wouldn't ever trouble him! But Trowbridge has kept me informed; he looked into the whole matter because of Cuyler's child."

"Child! He has no child!" Shirley said, breathing hard.

"Jim is his child," Margaret said.

"Jim! You mean this child here?" Shirley exclaimed. "My dear Miss Yorke, you will find yourself in for a long fight on that score," she said kindly. "How do you possibly expect to prove that this boy, whom Cuyler Theobald never saw in his life, is his son? The courts will simply laugh at you—it's impossible!"

"Even if it were, I don't think I should feel too badly," Margaret assured her, unshaken. "It was his father that I feared, and now poor Cuyler is gone! Trowbridge has been watching Jim's interests ever since he was born, and even told Cuyler's uncle, I believe, that there was a son. I think Trowbridge wrote me that before Cuyler married—in Paris—"

"Married me, you mean?" Shirley interpolted sharply.

"Yes, four years ago, I think Trowbridge wrote me that he had written Cuyler that it could not be a valid marriage, here in this state, and that as all Cuyler's properties were in California he would be disinheriting his second wife—"

"Well, this is ridiculous!" Shirley said lightly, "and you and I will be town's talk for the next few weeks. But I wouldn't congratulate myself too soon, if I were you! You may swallow this whole, Stan, but I assure you I shall fight—fight to the last ditch! I was married to Cuyler Theobald in Paris, and I was married to him again, a few weeks ago, in New York. There is such a thing as a wife's claim, and I'm going to find out exactly what it is! I'm sorry to have to go, but—as his widow, I may have to leave for New York tomorrow," finished Shirley, trembling. "I'll pack now, Stan, if you don't mind," she said courageously.

And she swept indoors; leaving the ecstasy of long-awaited joy on the porch, for Stan and Margaret sat down quite simply upon the old wicker sofa, and the man put his arm about Margaret's slender waist.

Shirley found them there when she came out an hour later. Stanley put her into the car, and Margaret waved, and the man grinned in farewell. But Shirley, still flushed, and with dangerously bright eyes, was settling herself in the limousine, and apparently forgot to nod good-byes.
